Brooks Names Fremont Man

. . . Replaces Herrington Dec. 15

By Betty Person

Forrest A. Johnson, former mayor of Fremont and a practicing attorney, was appointed state tax commissioner Tuesday by Gov. Ralph Brooks.

Johnson, 42, a Democrat, will succeed Fred A. Herrington, a Republican, who has resigned his post effective Dec. 15 to become executive director of the Nebraska Citizens Council, a private tax research organization.

His appointment is until the next session of the Legislature when the governor must submit a name for confirmation. Gov. Brooks said he did not plan to call a special session for Johnson's confirmation.

Johnson, who is presently deputy county attorney of Dodge County in charge of civil matters, served as mayor of Fremont for two terms, 1955 to 1959. He was county attorney of Dodge County from 1951 to 1955, city attorney of Fremont from 1949 to 1951, and a special agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation from 1942 to 1945.

He was president of the League of Nebraska Municipalities in 1957-58, and chairman of the League's legislative committee.

'State Fortunate'

In a prepared statement at the press conference announcing Johnson's appointment, Gov. Brooks said, "Nebraska is fortunate to obtain the services of a qualified attorney with a wide background in public life at virtually every level of our governmental structure."

Also in a prepared statement, Johnson said, "It is an honor to accept the appointment as Nebraska state tax commissioner. This is done with a realization of the responsibilities involved.

"It is my aim," Johnson continued, "to serve the State and the people who comprise it by administering a fiscally sound and administratively efficient tax system for our State."

Asked about retention of present personnel in the tax commissioner's office, Johnson acknowledged he would retain W. E. "Pat" Daugherty, who was recently appointed by Brooks to succeed Deputy Tax Commissioner Wilber Houtchens who resigned in October.

The newly-appointed tax chief said it was too early to decide about other staff members.

'Study Changes'

"There will perhaps be some changes, but I'll have to study them," he commented.

Johnson said he will work in the tax commission office "at least on a part-time basis between now and Dec. 15 to become familiar with office practices."

Herrington had announced earlier that he would hold a public hearing Dec. 11 to establish a new set of rules and regulations for 1960 tax assessment and administration prior to his leaving office.

Johnson said he will attend the hearing, and that he expects to amend the rules and regulations between Dec. 15 and Jan. 1 to incorporate Gov. Brooks' proposal that the 1960 rules include the assessors' valuations of personal property.

The valuation schedules previously have been used as a guide, but Brooks announced in October that he wanted them incorporated in the rules to give them the force and effect of law.

Herrington Opposed

Herrington is opposed to this principle and has stated he would not include them in the rules he will propose, but agreed to assist in formulating them for the new regulations.

A native of Fremont, Johnson graduated from Fremont High School in 1934, and received his AB degree from Midland College at Fremont in 1939, majoring in social sciences. He received his law degree from Creighton University in 1940.

He is married and has 4 children, and is a member of the First Methodist Church of Fremont.

Johnson is a member and past exalted ruler of Fremont Lodge 514, BPOE; member and past president of the Fremont Kiwanis Club; chairman for Dodge County for the past 6 years of the Nebraska Society for Crippled Children, and a member of the board of directors of the Fremont YMCA since 1946.

Ike Warns Steel Sides U.S. 'Cannot Sit Idly By'

Washington (AP)— President Eisenhower hinted Wednesday the government may be considering an extraordinary move to settle the prolonged steel dispute. Unless, that is, an early voluntary agreement is reached.

Eisenhower said at his news conference he has brought every bit of official and personal influence to bear on both sides to reach an agreement on their own, and will renew that appeal in his nationwide address Thursday night.

"I just know this," the President added, "if we can't get anywhere on this thing, then finally the government cannot sit idly by on its hands."

Sad Day Ahead

But if the point comes that the government has to act to end the dispute, he said, it will be "a sad day for the United States."

Mediators, meanwhile, toiled at separate sessions with industry and union negotiators without much hope that an agreement can be reached before the present 80-day injunction expires Jan. 26.

Joseph F. Finnegan, federal mediation director, arranged more separate sessions Thursday.

David J. McDonald, Steelworkers Union president, charged in an address to a labor union convention here Wednesday that the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. has ordered a worker speed-up and has lowered quality standards to recoup strike losses. McDonald said it was typical of what he called "a cold-blooded, ruthless" industry attitude.

Mitchell Airs Issue

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell touched on a key phase of the steel dispute in speaking to investment bankers Wednesday in Florida. He said management is too eager and labor too reluctant to change established work practices. Mitchell said both sides should deal realistically with the problem.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief steel industry negotiator, said there is nothing precipitate about steel company insistence on more leeway in altering work practices. He said the industry has been plagued with restrictive work practices for a dozen years.

Anderson Eyed Again As Governor Material

. . . May Try If Seaton Doesn't File

By Don Walton

Former Gov. Victor Anderson of Lincoln will probably attempt to recapture the governor's chair in 1960 if Interior Secretary Fred Seaton does not file for the Republican nomination, informed key GOP sources told The Star Wednesday.

Anderson, it was understood, has not yet committed himself to a gubernatorial candidacy or as yet definitely made a decision on the matter.

However, all political signs at this time point to the fact that the former two-term chief executive is giving the matter careful consideration, party sources said.

Seaton, who has long been wooed by highly influential Nebraska Republicans, is expected to reveal his decision on a possible gubernatorial candidacy in the near future.

No Answer

Thus far, the Hastings publisher has said neither yes or no.

Anderson's possible entry into the wide-open race would set into motion political maneuvering which could well ignite a violent Republican primary war next May.

State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, Anderson's longtime sworn political enemy, has promised time and time again that he would immediately file for the GOP gubernatorial nomination in the event that Anderson entered the struggle.

Terry Helped Ouster

Carpenter was a factor—the importance of which is still a matter of conjecture—in Anderson's defeat last November in his bid for a 3rd term.

Republican leaders have long been searching for one well-known, strong gubernatorial candidate whose filing might cut the field of GOP hopefuls, thus avoiding a gang primary in which a so-called non-party man might emerge the winner.

Get Support

Once the strong man won the primary, GOP chieftains hope, he could consolidate broad public support on the road to victory in November.

With the governorship all but up for grabs (Democratic Gov. Ralph Brooks is not expected to seek re-election), Republicans think they can win in 1960 if they can find the strong man.

Anderson supporters think he may be it.

First, they contend, he can win the primary on the strength of his well-known name and his two prior terms as governor.

With hard work and a relentless campaign, they say, he can win the general election in November, noting that he barely lost in 1958 by a mere 1,640 votes.

Anderson's candidacy, his supporters think, would in itself cut the field of GOP candidates, many of whom have indicated they would not run against the former governor.

Others Show Interest

In other developments pertaining to the GOP gubernatorial puzzle:

—increasing evidence has arisen throughout the state that former Republican State Chairman Richard E. Spelts Jr., of Grand Island has long ago made a firm decision to devote his political talents in 1960 in behalf of the re-election campaign of Sen. Carl Curtis.

(Spelts supporters have urged him to enter the gubernatorial picture.)

—State Sen. John Cooper of Humboldt mailed to GOP contributors throughout the state copies of a national milling magazine article boosting Cooper for "higher political office" in Nebraska.

(Cooper, party finance chairman whose letter to GOP workers also plugged for 1959 finance quotas, has also been mentioned as a possible gubernatorial contender.)

Meanwhile, a bevy of names — including former Gov. Val Peterson, at least 3 other state senators, attorneys and businessmen—keep making the rounds.

Only Lincolnite Del Lienemann, who is basing his campaign on tax reform, has filed for the GOP nomination thus far.

WINTER? STILL IN NIFTY 50s

This is winter?

The calendar says so. Christmas shoppers think so, but the weatherman says no.

Fair and warmer is forecast for Thursday, with highs predicted in the 50 to 55 degree range in the extreme east to 55 to 65 in the central and west.

The unseasonably warm temperatures will continue through Thursday night, the weatherman says.

Sidney reported the state high of 66 Thursday, and the mercury dropped to 15 at North Platte for the state low. Lincoln recorded a high of 52 and a low of 22.

SNOWSLIDE KILLS 9 ALPINE WORKERS

Turin, Italy (AP)— An avalanche laden with hundreds of tons of snow thundered down an Alpine mountainside onto a wooden barracks in the Valley of the Ogre Wednesday, killing 9 construction workers.

Of the 37 men who had been sleeping in the barracks, 22 dug their way to safety. Rescue parties delved into the snow to find the 9 bodies and 6 injured men.

The barracks in the isolated valley near the French border housed workers digging a tunnel for a hydroelectric power plant.

Dam Bursts; High Death Toll Feared

Frejus, France (AP)—A small river swollen by 5 days of rain on the French Riviera burst through the Malpasse Dam with a thunderous roar Wednesday night and devastated the valley below.

The full scope of the disaster could not be determined in the dark of night and early morning, but the French Press Agency put the known death toll at 60 and said it might rise.

Another report said 200 persons were unaccounted for early Thursday.

The wall of water swept away buildings and houses in its path.

The French government quickly marshalled its forces to cope with what appeared to be a major disaster.

The Interior Ministry said 4 navy fire-fighting boats were being sent to aid in rescue work.

Boats Sent In

Army engineers were sending rescue craft, and doctors and ambulances were ordered in from nearby localities.

Destruction of the power plant at the dam—in the first blow struck by the crashing wall of water—cast the whole area in darkness.

Mobile lighting units and a radio transmission truck were being sent in before daylight.

Cars, trucks, trees and paving stones were reported tumbled and uprooted by the massive surge of water.

To describe the sound of the break, one witness said: "We thought several trains were roaring down the tracks at once."

Pleas For Aid

Authorities of the region described the break as a catastrophe and sent calls for aid from as far away as Paris.

Panic swept through the valley and this Mediterranean city of 13,500 — an old Roman town founded by Caesar.

About 2,000 soldiers in the Frejus Barracks joined rescue workers. Firemen from cities along the Riviera rushed to the scene along with French national security forces.

Dr. J. L. George

Veterinarian Group Honors Dr. George

Dr. J. L. George of Chester, former state veterinarian, was honored posthumously Wednesday night with the presentation of the first "Outstanding Veterinarian Award" of the Nebraska Veterinary Medical Assn.

Dr. George, who practiced in Chester from his graduation at Kansas State Veterinary College in 1932 until his death, took an active part in the affairs on the Nebraska State Veterinary Medical Assn.

He served on various committees and was a member of the executive board. He served as state president of the association in 1950.

From 1953 until 1958 he served as state veterinarian.

His outstanding work on the various committees and his community and civic affairs were cited, in addition to his contributions to the veterinary medical profession.

His widow and son Richard accepted the award at the annual banquet held Wednesday evening for the Veterinary Assn. at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Verdicts Near For Yank Trio

2 Facing Cuban Firing Squad May Be Deported Instead

Havana (AP) — Military tribunals Wednesday weighed the fate of 3 Americans caught in a roundup of suspected foes of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime.

Accused of counter-revolutionary activity, two face death sentences demanded by the prosecution. But there was speculation that deportation, not the firing squad, awaited them. A long prison term has been demanded for the third.

The 3, all pilots, are:

Frank Austin Young, 38, Miami, who returned to Cuba last September, 3 weeks after his release from a Havana prison on currency manipulation charges. He was captured in eastern Pinar Del Rio province and accused of leading an armed bank of rebels.

Rafael Del Pino, 33, Miami, Cuban born naturalized American captured last July when he landed a light plane on a highway near Havana. He was accused of trying to help anti-Castro Cubans flee the country.

Peter John Lambton, 24, Nassau, Bahamas, London born naturalized American captured with Young. Lambton said he came to Cuba to take pictures of counter-revolutionaries for sale to American magazines.

The prosecution asked a 30-year prison term for Lambton and death for Young and Del Pino.

Verdict Awaited

Young and Lambton were tried at Pinar Del Rio. The president of the tribunal told newsmen the court would not announce its verdict before Thursday.

Del Pino, tried in Havana, is expected to learn his fate Friday.

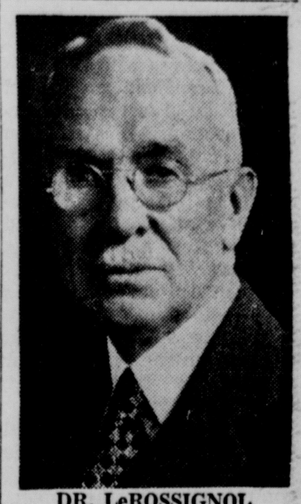
Unable to stand because of wounds suffered when police gunfire hit his plane, Del Pino denied he worked against Castro. He admitted working in the U.S. against some members of Castro's government.

"I loved Fidel like a brother," he testified at an 8-hour session during which he waved a large crucifix.

Tried with him was Luciano Linares Castell, policeman under ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista, for whom the prosecutor also has asked the death penalty.

Havana (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Philip W. Bonsal will go to Washington Monday for consultations.

It will be Bonsal's second trip to Washington since U.S.-Cuban relations were strained by repeated attacks from Fidel Castro and expropriation of American property here.



DR. LeROSSIGNOL

Ex-NU Dean LeRossignol Dead At 93

. . . Funeral Friday

Funeral services for Dr. James Edward LeRossignol, author and dean emeritus of the University of Nebraska College of Business Administration, will be held Friday.

Dr. LeRossignol, who was 93, died Wednesday. He lived at 2821 Williams.

Dr. C. Vin White will officiate at the services, set for 3 p.m. at Roberts Mortuary, followed by cremation.

A native of Quebec and a resident of Lincoln for nearly 50 years, Dr. LeRossignol taught for a total of 67 years. His teaching experience spanned the fields of economics, ethics, psychology and political science.

Dr. LeRossignol came to Lincoln and the University in 1908 as a professor of political economy on a year's leave of absence from the University of Denver.

He returned to NU in 1911 to become director of the NU School of Commerce in 1913. He is considered the father of the University's present

Royal Gems 'Lost'

Bombay (AP) — "In the fair name of India," police have appealed for the return of a missing jewel box belonging to Crown Prince Asfa Wassan of Ethiopia. The box of heirlooms, including the diamond-encrusted gold "Collar of Sheba," was reported stolen or mislaid before the prince wound up a good will tour here last week.

After 'Gassed' Appearance

Mickey Relents— Paar's Nose Safe

Hollywood (AP) — Mickey Rooney threatened to punch Jack Paar in the nose Wednesday because Paar accused him of being drunk on his national television show Tuesday night.

But the little actor decided later to leave Paar's nose unshattered. Instead, he said, he had a nice talk with him.

"I went over there," Rooney said later, "and we had a long conversation. It was all out of hand . . . We talked it over and it's all straightened out. Just a misunderstanding. Everything is fine."

On his show Wednesday, Paar confirmed that Rooney had telephoned him and said he was "going to punch me in the nose."

"I was scared," said Paar. "This is no little guy . . . He could lick most people in this studio . . . He's athletic . . .

"The kid is like steel . . ." he added.

Paar went on to say that when Rooney appeared at his apartment, he was even more nervous because Rooney was wearing gym shoes. "He really looked mad."

But then, Paar said, "Rooney put his hand out and said, 'I'm sorry; I was drunk.' "

"It took great courage to say I'm sorry," said Paar.

He concluded by saying "Mickey Rooney is a hell-uva nice guy."

ROONEY . . . Vents Fury Over Phone

Rooney, celebrating the first anniversary of his fifth marriage, was invited to leave the nationwide program Tuesday night.

Paar accused him at one point of being drunk.

First Mickey said he thought Jack's show was above par. Then he said he didn't like it.

After Mickey delivered his revised estimate, Paar asked:

"You enjoy it tonight?"

"Not necessarily," said Mickey.

"Would you like to leave?"

Mickey nodded, rose and left.

Today's Chuckle

Nothing confuses a tricky business executive more than a simple honest, straightforward approach to a problem.

IKE TO STRESS PEACE ON TRIP—

Birth Control Plan Opposed

President Against Using Foreign Aid Funds For Such A Program In Other Lands

Washington (AP) — This government should neither send birth control advice abroad, President Eisenhower said Wednesday, nor interfere with any country which tries that solution to its over-population problem.

Eisenhower told his news conference forcefully that the "explosive" question—an economic issue in some poorer nations and a rising political issue here—is simply none of the government's business.

Eisenhower went into the birth control matter at a widely ranging conference in which he also:

1. Declared he will try to convince the world on his upcoming good will journey that the United States wants only to be a good partner in the quest for peace with justice.

2. Hinted at some form of government action if the steelworkers union and industry management do not settle their dispute.

Ready To Talk

The President readily let himself be drawn into the debate over use of American foreign aid funds on birth control programs, a debate which has agitated the Catholic and Protestant clergy and put 1960 presidential aspirants on something of a spot.

"I cannot imagine anything more emphatically a subject that is not a proper political or governmental activity or function or responsibility," he told a questioner.

While he has no quarrel with the stand of the Catholic Church against artificial birth control, he said, the subject "has nothing to do with government contact with other governments."

"We do not intend to interfere with . . . the internal affairs of any other government, and if they want to do something . . . about what is admittedly a very difficult question, and almost an explosive question, that is their business.

"And if they want to go to someone for help, they should go—they will go unquestionably—to professional groups, not to governments."

Dr. Wilson Disagrees

While the President spoke, a Protestant spokesman announced that he sees no objection to the United States providing birth control help, if it is requested, as part of the foreign aid program.

Dr. R. Norris Wilson, executive director of Church World Service, said he would view it as a disgrace if an underdeveloped nation like India asked birth control information and the United States did not supply it.

This conflicted squarely with last week's declaration by the country's Roman Catholic bishops that the use of aid funds for artificial birth prevention would be a "morally, humanly, psychologically and politically disastrous approach to the population problem."

Gold Urges Cities To Solve Traffic

Denver — Nathan Gold of Lincoln urged the American Municipal Assn. meeting here to solve city downtown traffic problems in order to keep cities prospering and maintain their number one property base.

"Where this (traffic) strangulation exists," Gold said, "business dies. The core of the community, its highest assessment area, goes to pieces."

Gold, who is president of the National Retail Merchants Assn. and chairman of the board of Gold & Co. of Lincoln, stressed that federal funds are available for urban roads but that it will do little good to have automobiles whiz between cities on the interstate only to be spilled off in cities and move bumper to bumper within the city.

Legend Disproved

Amman (AP) — Jordan officials say they have finally disproved a legend that Solomon's temple lies beneath the Holy Moslem dome of the Rock in Jerusalem's old walled city. They report excavations under this site of the Mosque of Omaha (dating from the 7th century A.D.) showed only natural rock and no ancient structure.

RAY FOUND NOT GUILTY

. . . On Morals Charge

Detroit (AP) — Singer Johnny "Cry" Ray was found innocent on a morals charge Wednesday and promptly fell off the prisoners' bench in a dead faint.

Ray

Revived amid a bedlam of applause and cheers, Ray told the all-woman jury in Recorders Court:

"It's the nicest thing I could hear."

Ray was accused of accosting and soliciting here Nov. 21. Patrolman Eugene Caviston of the Detroit police vice squad testified that the singer made an indecent proposal to him outside a downtown bar. Caviston, in plainclothes, had posed as salesman.

Ray, who pleaded guilty and was fined $25 on a similar charge in 1951, took the stand for 40 minutes earlier and denied the police officer's accusation. He said Caviston asked for his autograph in the bar and then Ray invited the new acquaintance to a party at his hotel suite.

Monty In New Trouble, But Gag Plan Rejected

London (AP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery was in more trouble in the House of Commons Wednesday — this time for defending South Africa's racial policies.

But he came out of the skirmish unscathed. War Minister Christopher Soames rejected suggestions that he put a gag on the outspoken old soldier.

Indignant Laborites, still smarting under Monty's preelection remark that people voting Labor were "barmy," criticized a speech he made in Johannesburg two weeks ago.

Montgomery was reported as saying a U.N. resolution on South African policies was internal interference and that Negroes in South Africa are no worse off than Negoes in the United States.

A Close Call

Livingstone, Northern Rhodesia (AP) — Jacob De Vries fell half way down a 300-foot gorge at Victoria Falls. Rescuers descending by rope ladder found him clinging to a bush just 15 feet above a sheer drop into Devil's Cataract. He was hauled out suffering only lacerations and bruises.

PHONE OPERATORS ACCUSED IN RACKET PROBE

Washington (UPI) — Two telephone operators at a swank Washington apartment-hotel were indicted Wednesday on charges of conspiring to "obstruct and frustrate" the Senate Racket Committee's investigation of the teamsters union.

A federal grand jury here accused the two of falsifying and destroying records of telephone calls from rooms occupied by teamsters President James R. Hoffa from 1957 until April, 1959.

Indicted were Sally T. Hucks, chief telephone operator at the Woodner hotel-apartment here, and Violet A. Davis, her assistant.

The grand jury said the two operators last April 10 destroyed telephone records that were under subpoena by the rackets investigators.

Magi To Straw Goat—NU Displays World's Art

Centuries of religious paintings, objects and Christmas decorations ranging from a 10th Century painting of the Magi and Christ Child to Dutch cookie molds is on display at the Nebraska Union through Thursday evening.

Display With International Theme

Valuable art objects loaned by Lincolnites share space with colorful Christmas dolls from every country in Parlors A, B and C.

The unusual exhibit was collected by Miss Margaret Fedde, retired University of Nebraska professor, from her own world travels.

Probably the most valuable of the religious objects is the 10th Century icon from Antioch owned and loaned by Holy Trinity Episcopal Church.

Chinese Staff

Other items include a Chinese staff used by religious pilgrims climbing to mountain shrines, loaned for the display by Dr. A. H. Webb. Next to it is a tiny leather charm from Ghana, Africa, loaned by Miss Florence Brugger.

Dr. and Mrs. Webb also contributed a Tibetan prayer wheel for the showing.

Another unusual object, is a tiny cross found in ancient ruins in Syria. Miss Fedde, who owns the cross, said it is believed to be more than 1,000 years old.

In the lighter vein, Miss Fedde has added Scandinavian hand-blocked table linens in the Christmas theme as well as Dutch cookie molds which produce 2-foot tall cookies fashioned into knights, kings and horses. They were loaned by Virginia Ann Poore.

Attractive tin candlestick holders and Christmas ornaments from Mexico, and a pottery plate from Turkey carrying an Arabic inscription, "God be with you," are among international objects on view.

A table of madonnas, and a display of Christmas vestments are included along with creche arrangements, one from Oberammergau, Germany, loaned by Miss Elsie Rokahr.

Colorful dolls represent much of the world's population including Java, Morocco, Bavaria, Spain, Greece and Japan. Even a straw goat—a traditional Christmas figure in Sweden—is among the display which will be open to the public from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday.

British Team Fires 9th IRBM

Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. (AP) — A Thor IRBM arched spectacularly across the southern California sky Tuesday night on a 1,500-mile flight down the Pacific missile range. It was the first night launching from this big missile training base.

A Royal Air Force crew—one of many trained here to man Thor bases in Britain—got the surprise order for a practice firing only a few minutes before the launching.

It was the ninth Thor firing by an RAF crew. The order for the firing came from Strategic Air Command headquarters in Omaha.

Christmas Lincoln Can Be Glimpsed From Capitol Top

Lincolnites have been invited to view Christmas lights from the tower of the State Capitol building by James R. Delehant, superintendent of state buildings and grounds.

The tower will be open from 7 to 9:30 on the nights of the 28-29-30th, he said. Guides will be on hand to point out various scenic locations.

"Bad weather is the only thing that could alter our present tour plans," Delehant assured.

3 NU STUDENTS MATH WINNERS

Three University of Nebraska students were named winners in a mathematics com petition sponsored by the Nebraska chapter of Pi Mu Epsilon, national honorary mathematics society.

They were David Gustavson of Norfolk, test one, and Henry Pollock of Omaha, test two. Receiving the Freshman Mathematics Award was Larry Dornhoff of Heartwell.

Postmen Renew 'Mail Early' Plea

Postmaster O. E. Jerner has urged Lincoln patrons to mail early, due to the heavy volume of mail during the holiday season. He asked that gift parcels be mailed by Dec. 10, and local Christmas greeting cards by Dec. 15.

Parcels should be securely packed and wrapped and tied with strong cord. The address should be written clearly on one side only, and an extra address label placed on the inside of the parcel will insure delivery if the outside label becomes obliterated, he said.

Thompson Tosses Hat Into Race

. . . 18th District

Former University of Nebraska Dean of Student Affairs, T. J. Thompson, filed Wednesday as a candidate for the Nebraska Legislaure from the 18th District.

Thompson became the 3rd candidate for the post being vacated by Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln. Dr. James L. Sellers and George A. Knight also have filed for the post.

In a prepared statement, Thompson said he had "sincere regret" that Liebers was not seeking re-election.

"My filing is my own responsibility," Thompson said. "I have, let it be known, made no commitment to any political party, any association, or any group, whatsoever."

Thompson, who has resided at 5201 Leighton for the past 37 years, noted that he has lived in the 18th District for the past 40 years.

Qualifications

"It is my belief, accordingly, that my acquaintanceship with the interests of the district coupled with my varied experiences in governmental affairs, in farming and in performing many administrative functions at the University of Nebraska, qualify me to represent the varied interests of the 18th District," Thompson said.

"Most of the people who live in the district, are, like myself, people who do the day's work," he said. "These are the kind of citizens I would like to, and believe I can, represent. They have to know where the dollars came from and where they go."

Tells Tax Plans

Thompson advocated the following tax program as one which, he believes, would "add to the comfort and welfare of the citizens of the 18th District and of the State":

—elimination of all intangible taxes.

—adoption of a homestead exemption provision, of $2,500 to $3,500.

—adoption of a 2% sales tax with certain possible exemptions.

—adoption of a graduated gross income tax.

Thompson was born on a farm in South Dakota where he lived for 20 years, and retains farm interests there.

Uni Council

He was a member of the City Council of University Place for 2 terms, until annexation to Lincoln; a member of Selective Service Board No. 3 during WWII, chairman after 1942, and member of the Basic Science Board of Examiners for the state for 16 years.

A pre-medic advisor at NU from 1925 to 1927, Thompson was named dean of student affairs in 1927 and served in this post until 1952. He was acting chairman of the sociology department, 1954-1956; assistant director of research in the graduate college, 1955-56, and a member of the athletic board of control from 1921 to 1947.

Thompson has published research papers in chemistry, education and philosophy. Except for a few years during the depression of the '30's, Thompson said he had taught one or more courses in chemistry, and still does some consulting in chemistry.

Bad-Words Hunt

Mexico City (AP) — Mexican delegates to the Inter-American Congress of Broadcast Announcers, opening Thursday in Havana, are campaigning for a new kind of Latin American dictionary to include bad words. In order to avoid using them on the air, they want listings of words in bad taste and vulgarisms and those that have variant bad connotations in some Spanish-speaking localities.

The Area Of Security

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

When such a public menace as sex criminal Harlan Lynn Noble is sentenced to life in prison, there is a community feeling of security. But the sentencing also brings to mind events of some weeks ago relating to the State Hospital at Lincoln. And the history of the Noble case itself contains some unpleasant facts in relation to security.

Just recently Gov. Ralph Brooks made quite a case out of conditions at the State Hospital involving escaped mental patients. But the idea seems to have died away now with little having been accomplished as a result of raising it. Actually, only one part of a three-part matter was discussed — apprehension of escapees. This ignores the routine release program and the lack of security at the hospital which is responsible for escapes. Both of these items should be given study. It would seem entirely possible that Noble would some day end up in the State Hospital.

Short-Lived Idea

He is not likely ever to be released from there in a routine manner. With a life sentence before him, he would go, if declared sane after a time at the hospital, from the hospital back to the Penitentiary. But there has been one serious escape from the hospital and others are not impossible.

The hospital is not adequately staffed for violent emergencies within the maximum security wards. Two or three attendants could not possibly deal with a rebellion on the part of the 25 or 30 patients under their care. Even when the patients are at large within the same confined area, the attendants are unarmed. And the keys which could mean freedom for the patients are carried by one of these attendants.

Noble was under a life sentence in Kansas, it should be remembered, but this did not prevent him from again becoming a public menace at large. And while Noble may never be routinely released, there are those who have been patients within the maximum security wards but who have been routinely released. This means their prison sentence, if they have one, has been served and they are no longer considered insane. But this latter determination can be a highly debatable one.

What shortcomings there are in the hospital care of dangrous patients are not all the fault of the institution. It can work only with what the state is willing to provide for it. If there is to be any criticism of the institution, it would have to be in its lack of recognition of any particular problem. But for the solution to its problems, it has to look to other state officials. A great deal more needs to be done in the maximum security program for that name to be an accurate description of conditions.

An important subject which will be getting attention next Monday is the question of priority for proposed bond issues to be submitted to Lincoln voters. City and county officials will meet that morning with representatives of the various groups within the city that may be asking for permission to seek voter approval of a bond program for needed improvements.

If everything that everybody wanted went on the ballot, the total figure could well be as high as $30 million. But this figure includes things which actually have little if any chance of being submitted. It would include, for instance, some $10 million in school bonds and the Board of Education has made no decision yet as to when and if the next school bond program will be submitted.

It includes, also, $11 million for streets but this is an unlikely development. We can get the streets repaired without a bond program, for one thing, and it is questionable that the city could use street funds any faster than is now being done because of the limited annual allocation of federal matching funds. Remaining, then, is a question of some $10 million in three other projects — a combined city-county building, a new main library and a park improvement program. Above all, it is hoped that those who meet on Monday take a realistic look at things.

Three Main Projects

No issue should be submitted to voters at any time unless there is some reasonable assurance or belief that it would be approved at the polls. It is not just a question of priorities for these matters but it is also a question of merit, need and acceptability.

"Charles Says It Will Be Our Short-Cut To Glory"

The Attack Is On Parity

Early this week the Department of Agriculture observed that farm prices dropped another two per cent in the past month and that the parity ratio had dropped to a 19 year low. That is to say the farmer is currently receiving a 77 cent dollar while he is required to pay his bills in terms of a 100 cent dollar.

The farmer, as it is expected, is no more pleased with this than would be anyone else who labored to earn a ten dollar bill only to find that it would discharge but $7.70 of a ten dollar debt.

To the average farmer the sliding prices indicate that the 100 per cent of parity in the market place envisioned by the Eisenhower administration seven years ago through the elimination of food surpluses by lower support prices has not worked. Indeed, progressive departures from parity, plus the removal of production controls have served to promote overproduction.

But to the administration it is only further proof that the parity principle is a false one and that if there is continued price distress and added surpluses it is because the elimination of the parity principle has consisted of half measures.

This attack on the parity principle is one of the current time's phenomena of illogic. It is a political axiom that once a method has been discredited it seldom returns to favor. Hence, if eight years of disparagement of the parity principle succeeds then later farm programs will be built without it. And that may not be practicable.

Actually the parity principle is no villian in the present piece, for the reason that it has never been applied. Something progressively less than parity has been used in the price support structure and it has been used in a way to encourage overproduction rather than to eliminate surpluses.

It is a fact that the application of full parity to the support program with proportionate acreage control could protect the farmer's present income with considerably less production. It is also a fact that for the same amount of public spending national surpluses could be made to decline. And until the surpluses are brought into control there is little or no chance that the equivalent of parity will be found in any marketplace. The time to condemn and banish the parity principle is after it has been tried and found wanting, which hasn't happened yet.

Churchill's Mastery Of English

Whenever there is a dull moment in Great Britain nowadays they liven things up by celebrating the continued longevity of Winston Churchill. And it is particularly fitting that they do so, for if it had not been for the tremendous wartime leadership of that great statesman neither the British or any others in the Western world would have occasion to celebrate anything.

Monday Sir Winston acknowledged his 85th birthday and Great Britain rejoiced.

It was particularly Churchillian that the occasion brought to mind his book," My Early Life." In it Mr. Churchill did not attribute his wonderful speaking power to genius. Rather he saw it as the result of a rather slow mind.

He recalled that as a boy he entered Harrow as a pupil in the Third Division of the Fourth Form which is about as poorly as anyone can begin. However, it was hard enough for him and he labored a year before he could pass on upward to a level that was considered more educational.

The more clever boys, said he, soon ascended into the more splendid studies of Latin and Greek. But the lusterless Churchill had to content himself with English. Since he was required to spend so much time on it, he learned more about it in detail and, therefore, gained a considerable speaking advantage.

"As I remained in the Third Fourth three times as long as anyone else," said Churchill, "I had three times as much (of English) as anyone else. I learned it thoroughly. I got into my bones the essential structure of the ordinary British sentence—which is a noble thing."

There will be people who will deny that Churchill succeeded by grammar alone, and they will contend that he also had something of substance to say. Nevertheless, the Churchill story of his education, apocryphal as it may be, carries a significant criticism of the present day approach to education—made—easy. Because what he actually said was there are no pleasant short cuts. If one expects to be learned he must roll up his sleeves and start learning.

Floundering In Defense

The announcement by retiring Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy that Congress will be asked in 1960 for funds to beef up the country's B52 strategic bomber program is not a very encouraging one. The move, McElroy admitted, is in recognition of the fact that this country will be behind Russia in missiles for the next three years.

Thus, the B52 program can hardly be viewed as anything but a stop-gap measure —an effort to maintain a semblance of force and power while we attempt to match our Russian adversaries. But the program is self-defeating in that the rest of the defense budget does nothing to hurry the day when this equality, at least, with Russia will be achieved.

The U.S. still has no effective anti-missile missile and the quality of its intercontinental ballistic missile—the weapon for striking back in event of attack—is believed to be below that of Russia. In quantity, the U.S. is no better than on a par with Russia in intercontinental missiles. The missile programs of all the services have been hamstrung through senseless competition and lack of sufficient funds.

And this says nothing of the space program in which the U.S. is at least a year and possibly five years behind Russia. The announcement by McElroy cannot help but raise doubts as to the thought and intelligence which have gone into defense planning. It cannot help but make people wonder if the defense budget is nothing more than a shot in the dark with no clear objective in mind.

And even in advanced weapons such as supersonic bombers and nuclear power submarines, the U.S. has moved at a snail's pace.

Italy's President Will Support Ike

ROME — If European and Asian leaders speak as frankly to President Eisenhower as, thus far, the Europeans have to me, he will find far more opposition to his thaw of cold war than he ever dreamed. However, one man who will vigorously support him is President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy.

I talked to President Gronchi in the Quirinal, once the residence of Popes, then of King Victor Emmanuel and, after World War II, the American embassy. Its high ceilings and stern corridors are a little too formal for an Italian president who lived underground during the war, has taught school, sold neckties, and was a traveling salesman for a paint factory. So he lives in his own home.

Gronchi has friendly blue eyes, white hair, and a ruddy face that doesn't show the 70 years he has spent battling for democracy. When he receives President Eisenhower, he could well thank Ike for appointing an ambassador who elected him president. Obviously Gronchi won't do this, but it was Ambassador Clare Luce's widely known opposition to Gronchi when he was speaker of the Chamber of Deputies that backfired and caused Italian deputies to rebuff American interference by electing a man the U.S. ambassador opposed.

Mrs. Luce had opposed him because Gronchi was "to the left." He still is. He more than fulfilled her fears by proclaiming in his inaugural address a militant policy for helping the working classes.

He still believes the only way to lick Communism is to steal its thunder by winning over the masses. Moreover, he's a militant believer that the president of Italy should be no figurehead. So, practicing what he preaches, in one year he delivered more important speeches than any other European president in a whole term.

In doing so Gronchi hasn't worried about disagreeing with his own government leaders and is in vigorous disagreement with them right now regarding the Eisenhower policy of closer cooperation with Russia.

☆ ☆ ☆

The difference between him and Premier Antonio Segni, both leaders of the Christian Democrat party, is similar to the difference between President Eisenhower and the Goldwater-Bridges wing of the Republican party. It's also similar to the split running right through Europe on the question of thawing the cold war. On one side Eisenhower and Britain's Macmillan favor the thaw; on the other side France's De Gaulle and West Germany's Adenauer believe such a thaw would be deceptive and dangerous and they want to continue the cold war. Italy's leaders are divided between the two.

Gates Considered Good Defense Man

WASHINGTON — The Defense Department enters the final year of the Eisenhower administration under the best direction it has had during the Eisenhower regime. The experienced team now to be led by Thomas S. Gates, former deputy secretary, is as nearly nonpolitical in its approach to its hard problems as any reasonable man can expect.

This fact will help it enormously in its relations with the Democratic congress. This is not to say that Congress can be expected to abate its questioning mood or cease its pressures for better and faster progress, particularly in space.

But Democrats know that the decision they chiefly deplore, which is the high if not overriding priority accorded budget considerations over defense matters, is an Eisenhower decision. They will direct their fire at the White House, the Budget Director and the secretary of the Treasury who are better targets, anyway, in a presidential year.

The individual members of the Gates team are by this time well known to the services themselves which give them good marks. The professional view is that what the new team lacks in brilliance and glamour it compensates for with diligence and loyalty to the men and women in uniform for whom the secretaries must be spokesmen.

Nor does it seem that any high-powered tycoon or politician could be of much help to the Defense Department in the declining year of the administration when the air is already thick with presidential politics and getting more so by the minute.

The red faces around town, in fact, are on those who applauded the departing secretary, Neil McElroy, as presidential timber, on the basis of an excellent first impression. McElroy returns to the soap business in Cincinnati still personally popular. But in the current vernacular, he never really got with it so far as defense policy and government are concerned.

Perhaps this was in part due to the circumstances that the President so often took over, to a degree unusual with other departments, when the going got rough. It has been only since the death of John Foster Dulles that President Eisenhower has seized the reins of foreign policy, but it has long been clear, and is probably only natural, that he should be ready to match his military judgments with any man's.

☆ ☆ ☆

Anyway, Secretary McElroy, having concluded the traditional farewell inspection tour — which these days comprises a varied, far-ranging look at the great world though not yet the moon — lays down his burdens gracefully. Nearly all of his succeeding team long preceded him at the Pentagon, and they can be expected to give much more and closer attention to military detail than he did.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

To Your Good Health

Perhaps I can show why the woman who does a lot of ironing is a woman who is being good to her family. For ironing—and I don't have the slightest idea how the habit of ironing clothes began — can be of real importance to the health of the family. Ironing is more than just a matter of making clothes look attractive.

Dr. Molner

Now let me change topics —I want to explain about fungus infections, or perhaps fungus infestations is a better term. Athletes foot, ringworm, and other funguses that don't have any familiar nickname, yet cause miseries in the human race—these are what I'm discussing.

A fungus is what we can accurately describe as being a low order of plant life. It thrives in moist, dark places. Under a microscope, a fungus looks something like a cactus plant, with blunt ends and offshoots. It is considerably larger than such germs as strep, staph, tuberculosis bacillus, etc.

Yet, at the same time, it behaves to some extent the way bacteria behave. The fungus finds a nesting place in the skin, multiplies, and the colony creates an irritation. This is the way a colony of germs will behave. If the colony is small, the body gets rid of it. If it manages to grow to a large one, the body becomes ill as a result. Or some portion of the body becomes ill, "strep throat," or "infected finger" or "infected tonsils" being examples.

Now let's remember what I said about the fungus preference for a "moist, dark place." The fungus (if it is present in clothing, as if often the case) can go through washing and leave a few cells surviving. The "dark, moist" situation prevails in washing, and the action of soap and of rinsing will not necessarily get rid of the fungus entirely.

But ironing? Ah, that's something else. Light may not play any particular part here, but the heat of the iron dries out the fibers of cloth, and the "moist" part is eliminated.

That is why ironing is a good thing. I'm not talking about the appearance of clothes. I'm talking about their safety. You doubtless have noted that in past columns I've mentioned using an IRONED piece of cloth when you bandage some minor wound. The ironing helps destroy germs as well as fungus.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Can you answer some questions about fungus and athlete's foot:

"Can a person become reinfected from bed linen, sheets, etc.?

"Can a person get fungus in the fingernails from touching the feet?

"And fungus on the scalp? —Mrs. H.D."

Funguses, like germs, are everywhere. Some individuals are susceptible, and some aren't. That is, some acquire a fungus infection from slight contact; others escape unless the contact is strong.

Whether on the foot, in the ear, on the fingers (under or around the nails) or on the scalp, or other areas of the skin, the fungus infection is most likely a round, scaly, itchy patch. If it is athlete's foot, between the toes the round pattern may not be so obvious. Still, that's the general picture. The skin loosens and scales off, and the fungus seems to thrive around the edges where some of the skin remains attached.

Since fungus likes dark, moist places, the feet are an ideal area. However, a fungus can, at times, settle on almost any part of the skin. The scalp is common in children. Severe athlete's foot can spread to the legs and nails. Fungus in the ear canal can be most annoying, with itching, pain, discharge, excessive wax. The eyelids can be subject to fungus; so can the arms, hands, groin.

To prevent its spread, scrupulous cleanliness is important. Frequent (daily) changes of clothes, especially socks, will help.

Since ironing sterlizes with its dry heat, ironing of bed linen, underclothing, and socks is well worth the trouble. Treatment with salves which loosen scaly skin and attack the fungus is useful but not guaranteed to bring quick results.

One reader told of being helped by thyroid. This is an exception, but I think we should conclude that in this case the system needed thyroid, so thyroid improved the general health, and the resistance to fungus was enhanced. Other corrections of the general health picture may often bring most welcome results.

Finally, and not the least important by any means, I want to bring to your attention a promising new antifungus drug called griseofulvin. It is taken by mouth. On the basis of what I know of it so far, it appears to be a very useful new weapon against fungus.

It can be obtained through your doctor.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Dog-Bite Case

Lincoln, Neb.

Mr. Harold Deacon, superintendent of the Humane Society, made his report to the City Council on November 30. In his report, he mentioned that after five p.m., the telephone-answering service for the Humane Society reports injured dogs directly to the superintendent and he goes out to pick them up. Why isn't the same service accorded in picking up a dog when it has bitten a child? Why must a victim's family wait and wonder for hours or even days before the animal is picked up?

When a dog bit our boy last summer, we were told by the telephone-answering service that the society was open only for emergencies. What could constitute a greater emergency for a Humane Society than a vicious dog running around loose biting children? In three days the Humane Society had not picked up the dog and after much questioning we found out that the dog had finally been taken to a private veterinarian.

Mr. Deacon stated that this was undoubtedly an isolated case. Maybe so, but need we have even one isolated case? This is especially true when we called several times to find out if they had picked up the dog, so it couldn't have been a case of someone forgetting to tell Mr. Deacon. The society should have been aware that this dog had already bitten three other persons.

As requested by Mr. Ralph Nelson, we wrote his assistant, Mr. Don Biehn, and gave him the names of the other persons bitten previously by this dog, and the doctors who treated them. In this letter we asked that he keep us advised of the progress in the case. We later by phone asked him to let us know when the case would come up for trial. He failed to do any of the above. After the case was tried, we called him and asked what action had been taken and he informed us that the party had pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs. In our recent checking with the municipal court, we discovered that the fine was only $15 and $3.60 costs.

I know that all parents, PTA members or others interested in the welfare of Lincoln's children will want to express personally, especially to the four dissenting Council members — Messrs. DuTeau, Kinsey, Thorne and Tyrrell — dissatisfaction with the lack of proper action in this case, also in the cases of admitted failure of enforcement.

Ike's Visit

Lincoln, Neb.

In following the plans of President Eisenhower to visit faraway lands in an effort to promote lasting peace between all peoples, it seems tragic that such means need be taken. Peace — the absence of any violence, doing unto others as you would be done by. Freedom — a system of principles, of rightful living. Why must there be those who feel that only their way is the right way, with no rights of others to worship or own personal property? Why must children die because they fought for this privilege?

The prayers of all Christian nations that stand behind the President support his ability to guide our Ship of State through the stormy seas of the coming crisis. May he hold firmly to his beliefs of what is just.

As the soldier who fought for another freedom, he again faces his opponents upon their own front. In quiet dignity he strives to show that oppression, slavery under a master's hand, is not a lasting method of procedure. Revolt and rebellion must follow.

In the days that follow, the President will walk, spotlighted, before the eyes of the world. Standing for right against might, he will face humiliation and possibly anguish of soul. Let us hope that "the eyes of the blind shall be opened and the voice of truth shall prevail upon the face of the earth."

Several hundred men and women in 60 non-Chest communities of the Cornhusker Council combined their efforts to raise $20,000 toward the operating budget of the Cornhusker Council, Boy Scouts of America, for the year 1960.

We are very happy to report that the goal is in sight and that when the "clean-up" job is done, we will have reached our goal. This will make it possible to have a much better scouting program for more and more boys in every community within the territory of our Council.

The Star has helped a great deal toward the success of the campaign by keeping the people of this trade territory well informed, not only about the campaign but also giving news of scouting activities and events all during the year. We also appreciate the publicity given in the local Community Chest campaign in which we are one of the Chest agencies.

School District Reorganization Groups Prodded For Plans

County committees on school district reorganization have until Jan. 1 to submit comprehensive plans or they will be dissolved, the State School District Reorganization Committee reported Wednesday.

However, this must in no way be construed to indicate that the state may force counties to reorganize their school districts, cautioned Hubert Wolfe, secretary of the state committee.

Since 1955 Nebraska statutes have required that each county committee on school district reorganization prepare and submit a comprehensive plan for the organization of school districts.

This was to have been submitted for approval or disapproval within two years. If not, the state committee had the power to dissolve the county committee and order election of a new committee through the various boards of education in the county.

Forty-three committees were dissolved in 1957, and 37 others asked for additional information or were given extensions of time.

For those formed in 1957, the deadline is Jan. 1, Wolfe said. If the plan is not submitted, the state committee will order them dissolved and order a new election.

The county committees which have submitted plans and are not subject to dissolution are:

Antelope, Banner, Brown, Cass, Cedar, Custer, Dawson, Dixon, Dodge, Douglas, Furnas, Gosper, Grant, Greeley, Harlan, Hayes, Hooker, Jefferson, Johnson, Kearney, Knox, Logan, Nemaha, Perkins, Pierce, Red Willow, Richardson, Rock, Scotts Bluff, Seward, Sheridan, Valley, Wayne and Webster.

U.S. Appeals Court Rules Lincoln Man Has No Claim Against Gov't

Washington (AP)— The U.S. Court of Appeals ruled Wednesday that Thomas A. Hellander of Lincoln has neither an equitable nor legal claim against the government in connection with work on a Nebraska irrigation district.

Hellander sought to recover $66,349 in damages he claimed were incurred during work on a Bureau of Reclamation contract to build earthwork and certain other structures for the Superior-Cortland unit of the Nebraska-Kansas-Missouri River Basin Bostwick Division.

The court had been asked under a Senate resolution to report to Congress on the claim and the amount, if any, due Hellander.

The project was designed to irrigate farm lands near Superior, Neb.

Hellander, operator of the Tom Hellander Co., claimed that because of faulty contract specifications he incurred repair costs in order to build siphons that would not leak and that he was required to do over a subcontractor's work after having been assured by the government it was completed.

He claimed he was delayed by unusually heavy rains and that methods of calculating payment for certain excavation work was contrary to terms of the contract.

The court said Hellander admitted that at least a portion of the repair work was his responsibility due to inexperience and poor workmanship.

"Furthermore," the court said, "the facts show that the plaintiff was negligent in failing to employ some system of quality control on the work of his workmen, particularly those engaged in laying and joining pipe, and was also negligent in failing to test each siphon as required by the specifications."

Networks Pledge Crackdown On Ads

Washington (AP)—The bosses of the big broadcasting networks Wednesday pledged more stringent industry policing TV and radio commercials.

They gave the pledges at a conference called by the Federal Trade Commission to help develop a joint attack on the broadcasting of false and misleading advertising.

"We are convinced that you mean business," FTC Chairman Earl W. Kintner said at the end of the session. "We hope you are convinced we mean business."

Robert F. Kintner, president of the National Broadcasting Co. (and no kin to the FTC chief), said the National Assn. of Broadcasters will act this weekend to tighten up its advertising standards.

Homework, Too

The NBC president also said his network is reviewing its own standards and practices to see if they need revision.

Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, said CBS is taking steps to insure the integrity of material it broadcasts. He did not specify what these were.

Earl Kintner said the FTC's determination will be demonstrated in the months ahead by the filing of charges against a number of TV commercials.

"We will keep the pressure on as long as deceptive advertising remains a problem," he said.

Lincolnite Goes To 3-Year Term For House Looting

Roy C. Wood of 723 So. 15th was sentenced to 3 years in the State Penitentiary on a burglary charge Wednesday in Lancaster District Court.

Wood, 30, had pleaded guilty before Judge Paul White to burglarizing the Donald L. Green home at The Knolls Nov. 7. He reportedly stole electrical tools.

Wood reportedly was on parole from prison at the time of the offense and Judge White ordered that the burglary term run consecutively with the term on which he originally was committed.

Girl Gets Head Bump In Collision With Car

Mary Claire Reinhart, 8, of 3620 No. 68th, suffered a bump on the head when she was in collision with a car driven by Mrs. June C. Johnson, 34, of 3301 No. 68th, police said.

The child reportedly walked from in front of a school bus on 68th between Fremont and Benton and was in collision with the car. She was treated by her family doctor.

Construction Case Transcript Is Filed

The transcript of proceedings was filed in Supreme Court in the case of the Parsos Conctruction Co. vs. the Metropolitan Utilities District of Omaha.

Parsons appealed the case, in which it seeks $86,901 damages, after dismissal Sept. 29, 1959, by a jury in the district court for Douglas County. A motion for a new trial was overruled.

The suit stems from a 1954 contract by which Parsons agreed to build an extension to the filter plant at the municipal water works for $471,712.

It was completed and accepted by M.U.D. in April, 1956, according to the transcript.

Parsons claims $86,901 because of change orders and extra work, interest on overdue payments, and because of willfull interference in its execution of the contract, the attorneys for the construction firm said.

Barbara Hires Babysitter, Braces For Goodwill Tour

. . . Mamie Will Likely Visit Denver

Washington (AP) — Barbara Eisenhower left her 4 children in the hands of a babysitter and prepared to take off Thursday night on her first jet plane ride—a 22,000-mile trip with President Eisenhower.

She and her husband, Army Maj. John Eisenhower, are the only members of the family the President is taking along on his goodwill tour to 11 countries.

The trip was considered too tough for his wife, Mamie, the President said.

Instead of staying home at the White House, though, it is expected Mrs. Eisenhower will take a trip of her own to Denver, Colo., to visit her 81-year-old mother, Mrs. John S. Doud.

Date of departure for the First Lady was not announced.

Won't Fill Shoes

The White House has made it clear that Barbara Eisenhower won't be a stand-in. There's no such thing on this trip.

There will be no official duties for attractive, dark-haired Barbara, about 33, who calls the President "dad."

On the fast-paced trip she hopes she can find some time for sightseeing, particularly museums and art galleries, and possibly visiting hospitals.

Young Mrs. Eisenhower, daughter of an Army officer and married to the President's only son—also a career Army man, has been in Europe twice.

She campaigned a bit with President Eisenhower in 1952, but has usually stayed out of the public spotlight.

C. Reed Files As Delegate To Convention

Veteran Nebraska Republican leader Charles S. Reed of Omaha filed Wednesday as a delegate at large to the 1960 Republican national convention.

If elected, it will be the 5th time Reed has been a delegate at large to the GOP conventions.

An Eisenhower man at the 1952 convention where he served as associate counsel of the minority group on the important credentials committee, Reed said Wednesday he was "eminently satisfied" with Richard Nixon as the GOP presidential nominee.

"If Nixon is nominated, he'll be our next president," Reed declared.

As for the vice presidential spot on the 1960 GOP ticket, Reed said it was "not unlikely that Fred Seaton will be mentioned prominently" for the post.

"If I'm elected as a delegate, and if it is possible to do so, I would work for Seaton to get that spot," he stated.

'Copter Crashes; 13 Hurt

Washington (AP) — Thirteen soldiers were injured, at least one of them critically, when an Army helicopter crashed Wednesday on a skyline drive mountainside in Virginia.

The Army began an immediate investigation seeking to determine the cause of the accident.

The helicopter crashed in the woods on the skyline drive near Big Meadows, its destination on a tactical flight.

Two rescue helicopters flew the injured to De Witt Army Hospital at Fort Belvoir, Va., near Washington.

The pilot, unconscious and suffering from head injuries, was transferred by helicopter to Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, where he underwent surgery. The Army identified him as Chief Warrant Officer B. T. Heim of Elizabethtown, Ky.

Platoon Aboard

In addition to 3 crew members, the helicopter carried 12 other soldiers.

It was one of 3 'copters carrying a platoon of soldiers on Ranger training from A. P. Hill Military Reservation in Virginia.

A board of officers went from Fort Belvoir to Big Meadows for an investigation of the crash.

Except for Heim's serious injuries, the Army said 12 soldiers suffered injuries ranging from broken limbs to bruises.

Milford Chuck Wagon Dinner Termed Success

Lincoln Star Special

Milford—Approximately 200 persons were served amid a "western atmosphere" Wednesday night at the chuck wagon dinner served by the Methodist men of Milford.

A spokesman for the first event of its kind said the success of the dinner may mean a repeat or two when the weather warms up next summer.

About 40 Methodist men served the "he man meal from the Golden West" consisting of venison loaf, cactus greens, spud salad, hearth baked beans, sourdough hard rolls, holiday mince pie and coffee.

TV Ads Draw Watchful Eye Of Gray-Haired Lady

Washington (AP)—Mrs. Olive Vierbuchen, cheerful, gray-haired mother of 5, goes to the office, turns on a TV set, and watches it from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

To her it's work, not relaxation.

She is on the day time shift of the Federal Trade Commission's TV monitors, searching for false and misleading television advertising.

Sparked by the TV rigging investigations, the FTC has stepped up its watching to keep an eye on every minute of the day's TV doings—from soap operas to the late, late show on 3 nationwide networks.

The job fell to some long-time FTC employes. Unlike the average viewer, they do their hardest looking when the ads come on.

Anything that looks too good to be true, that exaggerates, or might be phony, they have to report.

So far, between the 8 official watchers here and others across the country, FTC says more than 1,000 complaints have been turned in. But many of them are duplicates.

At the moment, only 25 are actually being seriously investigated.

Mrs. Vierbuchen says even 8 hours of TV watching daily hasn't dimmed her interest in the medium. She still goes home after a day of viewing and looks some more—at her favorite night programs.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

Did you start a Christmas Savings Fund last year like the nice banker advised you? Neither did I.

Consequently, we are on the shorts. And whether we will have the Christmas goose depends on the charitable heart of the village jugman.

"Will you borrow me a C-note, Banker?"

That is the way I approach the jugman. When I go to the bank, I go humbly. It takes me three or four days, thinking up the approaches, I am that nervous.

My banker sits behind a glass window. You can see him from the street. I drive round and round the block, casing the situation. Is my Banker happy? Is his digestion good? Is he getting along well with Mrs. Banker?

These are things we must consider before putting on the bite.

I am banker to my teenage heiress. She owed me a fortune. A dollar here and a couple of skins there until we never knew where we stood.

She was positive she paid it back. Well, some of it, anyway.

"We'll cancel everything I owe you and start all over again. Then we won't have any arguments."

Well, it did seem like a splendid idea. So we did it.

We canceled all debts and started over again.

You know how we started. She was so relieved to be free of debt, she borrowed $2 right then.

We both feel a lot better about the whole thing.

My son is 4 years old. He has not learned about money but knows which side the old man is buttered on.

He turns on the charm. That sunny smile. Then we go shopping for toys. (Then we come home and he takes them apart beyond repair. What difference? We can go buy more. That is his idea.)

He does not know I am down, hat in hand, with the banker. Threatening to cut my throat on his doorstep on Christmas Eve if he does not come up with the ready.

He thinks I get my money from the boy who delivers the papers. He thinks I go to a newspaper office and print a paper. Then I give it to the boy and tell that boy: "Go deliver this paper to my house."

My son goes down and gets this paper at the end of the driveway. Then he brings it home. (Sometimes he runs the hose over it first. But that is only normal, scientific experiment. To see if it will melt.)

The paper boy comes once a month. We pay him. Then he goes to my office and gives me the money so I can bring it home and buy toys. That is the way it works.

Do you know that small children salted away $4 million in the Nation's jugs last year? True. That is the word from the American Bankers Association. Children's savings have increased 19 per cent this year.

The Bankers Association thinks that is dandy.

Nothing pleases my banker more than to put money in his jug. Nothing hurts him more than to take it out.

Bankers are so pleased with small fry bringing in their pennies for deposit that they have installed little platforms at "pediatric tellers' windows." The moppets should climb on the stand and hand over the bubble gum money.

We do not have a pediatric borrowers' window yet.

We cannot progress TOO rapidly. I still do the borrowing. I do not climb on a platform, either. I kneel. It is not too hard. My banker is thoughtful. He provides wall-to-wall carpeting. You can kneel anywhere.

Mall May 'Save' City

Denver (AP) — What does it take to "save" the downtown business district of a modern city?

The ex-mayor and now a councilman of one such city said it takes a plan, money, and much courage. The councilman is Glenn Allen and the city is Kalamazoo, Mich., with a current population of about 75,000.

Allen is attending the American Municipal Assn. convention, where the subject of urban renewal and downtown revitalization has come up frequently.

The Kalamazoo plan, Allen said, was a downtown mall similar to that employed in other cities as a means to lure shoppers and business establishments back from the suburbs.

The test period at Kalamazoo showed the mall to be a success, said Allen — so much so that the city's 1960 budget includes a tentative appropriation to lengthen the 900-foot mall another two blocks.

"There's no question in my mind that this concept will be adopted by more and more cities," he said.

"The downtown sections of cities must be saved, and Kalamazoo has shown that this method works," Allen said.

New York (UPI) — A cement cast made of Jimmy Durante's nose showed that his famous schnozz measures 77 millimeters long, 36 millimeters wide and has a visible circumference of 98 millimeters. These figures compare with an average person's 55-26-62.

Woman $100,000 Richer, But Good Fortune Didn't Last

A Lincoln woman had $100,005.01 in her hands, but didn't know it until some hours later when the bank telephoned: "Do you know you were rich for awhile today?"

It all started when Mrs. Harlan B. Elam of 1857 Pawnee stopped at the National Bank of Commerce to obtain a personal money order with which to pay a $5 bill she owed Anderson Hardware in Havelock.

She asked the drive-in window teller. Mrs. Sarah Murphy of 2225 B, for a $5 bank personal money order.

Late for a dental appointment, she made the money order payable to Anderson Hardware, signed her name, put it in a previously-addressed and stamped envelope and dropped it in a mail box.

Neither Noticed

Mrs. Elam didn't notice the incorrect amount on the personal money order and neither did the teller, Mrs. Murphy.

In recounting later how she used a check validating machine to insert a $5 amount on the money order, Mrs. Murphy said she "didn't notice that someone apparently hit the $100,000.01 figures and then failed to clear them."

It wasn't until Mrs. Murphy tried to balance up after 2 p.m. that the $100,000.01 mistake was discovered.

Sammy Had It

Bank officials calling Mrs. Elam concerning the money order learned that Uncle Sam had custody of the money order until Anderson Hardware picked up its mail.

Now the bank has the $100,005.01 money order back, Anderson's has its proper $5 one, and Mrs. Elam will get a receipt to show her bill is paid.

And, unlike a Massachusetts bank employe recently fired for making a $4 million error on a customer's check, Mrs. Murphy still has her job.

Bank trust officer Glenn Yaussi put it thus: "It's a mechanical error possible when a bank handles 50,000 to 100,000 checks each day."

New Firemen's Uniform Modeled

Fireman Bill Baum (right) models the new uniform which all Lincoln firemen must purchase by Jan. 1, 1962. Fireman Roger Chapp (left) wears the present style uniform, which has been in use for over 40 years. The firemen voted 116 to 28 to purchase the new uniforms. (Star Staff Photo.)

Beem Terms YMCA Boys' Drive 'Success'

The 1959 YMCA Boys Club membership drive was termed a success by Dick Beem, Boys Club officer. He said 116 new members were recruited and that the 3 year total for new members stands at 453.

Jim Mowbray was top producer during the drive, enlisting 10 new members. Randy Gould, Jim Reents and Mike Hoffman tied for second by recruiting 8 each.

Winning team captain was Bart Dennis. Johnny Hayes and his father, Dale Hayes, served as chairmen for the drive.

Team Picked In Moot Court Semifinals

Donald Leonard of Lincoln and Robert Walker of Carleton were judged winners of the semifinal first round of the Thomas Stinson Allen moot court competition at the University of Nebraska law college.

The pair will meet winners of the second round semifinal in final arguments before the Nebraska Supreme Court next spring.

Leonard and Walker defeated William Gilmore of Beatrice and Larry Frazier of McCook in competition judged by County Court Judge Herbert Ronin, and Lincoln attorneys Ralph Slocum and L. R. Ricketts.

In Thursday's semi-final arguments, John Haessler of Leshara and Richard Huebner of Plattsmouth oppose Jay Sullivan of Clay Center and Charles Wahl of Lemmon, S.D.

Nebraska Liquor Revenue Jumps 23% In November

The state revenue from alcoholic beverages rose 23% in November over the same month last year, Walter C. Haase, secretary of the state Liquor Control Commission, reported.

The total collected in November was $324,075 compared to $262,030 collected during November of 1958.

Spirituous liquors showed the largest increase with $230,455 collected in November compared to $162,280 collected in the same month last year.

The figure is now comparable, Haase said, as a recent switch over in accounting methods which altered the figures has run its course.

There was also an increase in fortified wines, up to $21,645 revenue produced compared to $20,737 in November of last year, but the other categories dropped as follows (last year's figure in parenthesis):

Light wines $2,305 ($3,709), beer $69,454 (73,844), license fees $150 ($1,400), and registration fees $32 ($58).

Also collected last month was $25 for shippers permits and $8 miscellaneous revenue.

The total revenue from Jan. 1 to Dec. 1 this year was $2,854,561 compared to $2,524,588 for the same period last year.

916 Stuart Bldg. Ph. 2-4857

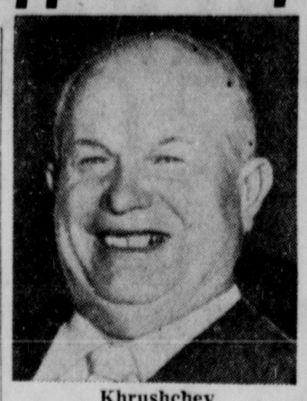
Budapest, Hungary (AP) — Some of Nikita S. Khrushchev's Kremlin comrades opposed his decision to throw in Soviet troops and tanks to crush the 1956 Hungarian revolt, he disclosed Wednesday.

The Soviet Premier defended his action in a speech to 10,000 or more Hungarian workers at the big Ganz-Mawag engineering and railway factory. He is here for the first Congress of the Hungarian Communist Party since the revolt.

"We thought in the Soviet Union on how we could help Hungary's working people against the counter-revolutionary forces," Khrushchev said.

"Some Soviet comrades expressed anxiety that any aid would be misconstrued. But we said that in time they would see we were right and we had to help the working class.

"The saliva of the imperialists was running in their mouths at the prospect of Hungary leaving the socialist camp. They thought that one by one they could sever the socialist countries from their united base."



Khrushchev

Khrushchev cited the example of Czar Nicholas I who helped put down the Hungarian revolution in 1848 under the Holy Alliance, a loose agreement among the great powers that was used to defend the divine rights of kings.

He also recalled that the United States gave aid in stamping out Communist rebels in Greece after World War II, and commented that "capitalism never hesitates to preserve another capitalist regime."

Khrushchev told the party Congress the 1956 revolt was caused by the mistakes of Hungary's former Stalinist leaders. He said the present party boss, Janos Kadar, had set about courageously correcting the errors and that the Communist regime was now secure.

He told the crowded factory assembly hall that the Communist bloc no longer had any fear from the external forces of imperialism.

"Our strength is greater than theirs," he said. "Our armaments are better. Our rockets are on the moon. Theirs have fallen into the sea.

"The capitalist world is shaking under the blows of the socialist camp and the working class movement. What really shakes it, even more than rockets, is the attitude of our workers to their work. For our progress together we have land and the material resources—above all, we have the will to win."

Praise From Moscow

Moscow (AP)—Moscow Radio praised the new 12-nation Antarctica treaty, saying it could set the pattern for wider and more important peace pacts. "The Antarctic, which is larger than, say, Europe, has now been proclaimed in fact a zone free of nuclear weapons," said Tass commentator Victor Kharkov. "Why could not such fruitful co-operation be achieved with regard to other continents?"

'Good Government Requires Good Citizens,' Schools Head Tells Students

County Students Eye New License Plates

County School Supt. Glenn E. Turner told 178 high school students attending county government day activities Wednesday that "good government requires good citizens."

Dr. Turner told the students that getting a good education, learning to get along with others and developing personal integrity all are important in becoming a good citizen.

The students, from 13 county high schools, visited Courthouse offices and learned about the duties of each. The students had been "elected" to the various offices by their respective student bodies.

They will make reports on what they learned to their fellow students.

During the afternoon they sat in on selection of a jury for a criminal case.

County Judge Herbert A. Ronin was chairman of the program. He has served in that capacity for 8 of the government day program's 10-year history.

Harris Overpass Draws New Suit Against Lincoln

The former operator of a cafe at 810 O St. filed suit for $8,906.32 against the City of Lincoln in Lancaster District Court.

John N. Christakes alleges he closed his Calumet Cafe because of loss of business resulting from construction of the Harris Overpass. A similar suit was filed last week by another firm in the same area.

Christakes alleges the new and wider overpass hid his cafe from view of drivers on the overpass and that the new structure curtailed access to his cafe.

London (UPI) — A Swiss businessman, impressed by the punctuality of the Bristol to London express train, presented gold wrist watches to the fireman and engineer. He had to delay the ceremony 35 minutes because the train was late.

North Platte Man Loses License For Farm Transaction

The State Real Estate Commission announced it has revoked the brokers license of Rod Gillespie of North Platte.

Charges against Alyce Brodbeck and Kenneth Tetro, who with Gillespie were doing business under the name of Action Agency, were dismissed.

The action came after a hearing Oct. 20 in North Platte.

Frank Marsh, chairman of the commission, said Gillespie "unlawfully and fraudulently" failed to disclose to the seller of a farm that a higher price had been bid for the land than that for which it was sold, and that Gillespie was acting in the interest of himself instead of the seller.

He said the farm, owned by Walter C. Wilkening, was sold to Paul Potter for $40,000, who sold it shortly afterward to John Washa for $43,200. Marsh said Gillespie attempted to charge Wilkening a $2,000 commission on the Potter contract, and attempted to further charge Potter a commission of $2,175 on the Washa contract.

MISS HELEN JEAN HOCKABOUT

News which will be of particular interest to campus circles this morning is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Dale P. Hockabout of Omaha, of the engagement of their daughter, Helen Jean, to Richard William Kelley, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. Whitney Kelley, also of Omaha.

The wedding is planned for June, and the ceremony will be solemnized at the First Central Congregational Church in Omaha.

Miss Hockabout is a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, of which she has served as president, and where she also was 1958 Homecoming Queen.

Mr. Kelley, also a senior at the University of Nebraska, is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, and is serving as chairman of the Student Tribunal.

The News Around Town

—Wish we could elaborate on all of the holiday plans that keep coming our way, but we'll have to wait a little longer for some of them. All we can do at the moment is repeat the statement of yesterday — that all signs point to a merry Christmas season.

And, as we also stated yesterday, some of the Christmas affairs are beginning early — The Terpsichorean Dancing Club, for instance, has a Christmas dinner dance planned for Saturday evening at Hotel Lincoln. Incidentally the club has one new member couple this season — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kudlacek.

Guest couples at the Saturday night party will include Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Art von Bergen, Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCord, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hinrichs, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Prehm, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dolk and Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Nebens.

* * *

—And we just learned that another Christmas dinner dance is on the books for Friday evening. It is then that the members of the Colonial Dancing Club will dine and dance at Hotel Cornhusker with, of course, the holiday motif much in evidence, decor-wise. The committee in charge of the party is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beechner, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Vance James, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Brownfield, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gadd, Mr. and Mrs. William Avon Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. E. Shelden Hallett, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Good, Dr. and Mrs. Knute Broady and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gease.

Guest couples at the dinner dance will include Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Becker and Mr. and Mrs. Ellery Hall Davis.

* * *

—We'll turn time backward for a moment—just long enough to tell you that Mrs. Frank Boehmer has returned home from Gothenburg where she spent the Thanksgiving week end as the guest of her granddaughter, Mrs. John Stebbins, and Mr. Stebbins. Mrs. Stebbins, as you will remember, is the former Barbara Farnsworth—Delta Gamma at Nebraska.

* * *

—Greetings this morning to Miss Jill Gradwohl who arrived the first day of December. Miss Jill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gradwohl of Minneapolis, Minn., and her mother is the former Janice Lindquist, Alpha Chi Omega at Nebraska. In her family circle the baby includes her sister, Ann, and her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Gradwohl of Lincoln.

Motoring to Norfolk for Thansgiving were Mr. and Mrs. James Power and their children, Craig and Pam. The Powers were the guests of Mr. Power's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Power, and Mrs. Power's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Craig.

MEADOW LANE

Understand that today is moving day for Capt. and Mrs. James Grady and their family. They are moving from their Eastborough home at 316 Prestwick Rd. to their brand new residence at 835 E. Avon Lane in Meadow Lane.

And a welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. Elrod who recently moved into their home at 1449 W. Avon Lane.

Younger members of the Elrod family include, Ronald, Rick, Kathy and Karen.

PARK VALLEY HEIGHTS

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Haas entertained members of their family at a dinner on Thanksgiving day. Included among their guests were Mrs. Haas' mother, Mrs. George Gates, and her brothers-in-law and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Myers and their son Bobby, and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Malick, Carol and Larry of Falls City.

Incidentally, Mr. and Mrs. Myers and their son have recently moved into a home in the Eastborough area. Their new address is 626 No. 68th.

KITCHEN PIN-UP

One of the most tantalizing aromas anytime—anywhere—is that of homemade doughnuts, fresh, warm and sugar-coated. And the beauty of them is that they are truly a wholesome treat for after school refreshments, to serve when friends drop in for a visit, or as a breakfast treat on these cool days.

BUTTERMILK DOUGHNUTS

3 eggs, beaten
2 cups sugar
1½ cups warm mashed potatoes
⅓ cup butter, melted
1 cup buttermilk
6 cups sifted all-purpose flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1½ teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon nutmeg

Add sugar to eggs; beat until well mixed. Stir in potatoes, butter and buttermilk. Add sifted dry ingredients and mix only until flour is completely moistened. Chill dough at least 1 hour. Roll one-third of dough at a time on lightly floured surface to one-half inch thickness. Cut with a floured doughnut cutter. Let rest 10-15 minutes. Fry in hot, deep fat (370 degrees) for about 1½ to 2 minutes on each side, turning once. Makes five dozen.

When doughnuts are golden brown, lift from fat to paper toweling to cool slightly. Then roll in confectioners' sugar, or a mixture of granulated sugar and cinnamon. Frost some, if you wish, with chocolate butter icing and sprinkle on tiny candies or chopped nuts.

Family Features

Dear Abby--

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Two of my girlfriends and I got together and we started talking about another girl. They said some things about her that were very damaging to her reputation. (They were not true.) I am sorry to say that I joined in and did my share of talking. The rumors got around all over school and she found out who started them. Now I have lost her friendship. She is a very nice girl, Abby. I never realized how much harm could be done by just talking about a person.

I hope that everyone who reads this will benefit from it. I caused a lot of tears to be shed and I pray she will forgive me. I couldn't feel worse if I had robbed a cripple of his crutches.

LEARNED A LESSON

DEAR LEARNED: To confess a wrong and ask forgiveness is a step in the right direction. Now promise never to do it again. For those inclined to be loose of tongue—a little simplified Shakespeare: "He who steals my purse steals trash, but he who steals my good name, enriches himself not and makes me poor, indeed."

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I married a man 14 years my senior. He used to be a sot and I have left him twice for that reason. The last time I left him he got mad and cashed in his life insurance and all his bonds. He sold all his property and turned everything into cash. He made a will leaving me one dollar!

He doesn't know I am aware of his will, but I know it is true. If I mentioned it to him he would refuse to discuss it. I am 51 years old and am not trained to go to work. I have no other source of income. I am disgusted and have lost all respect for him. Have you any ideas of what I should do in a case like this?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: If your husband feels no moral obligation to you, your only hope is that he has a legal one. A lawyer can tell you what your rights are under the circumstances.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am making my daughter's school wardrobe. She is a fourth-grader and very fashion-conscious. She requested a straight skirt. Personally, I think a full skirt would look better on her, but she specifically asked for a straight skirt because she says all her friends have them. My older sister opened her big mouth. She says I am crazy to let a 9-year-old girl have what she wants. I say, my daughter might not LOOK as well in a straight skirt, but she'll be happier with it because she'll be like her friends. What do you say, Abby?

MOTHER M.

DEAR MOTHER: I say you are right! I wouldn't carry this philosophy to extremes by allowing my child to "have things" merely because her friends have them. But when it comes to clothes, if it isn't too "way out"—let her have what she wants.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Opening lead — king of spades.

This hand demonstrates an important underlying principle of dummy play. South is in six hearts and gets a spade lead. He sees the slam is sure to make unless he loses two club tricks.

Two club losers are possible only if the outstanding clubs are divided 4-1 or 5-0. If the suit is divided 3-2, only one club can be lost.

So declarer, with no control over the distribution of the adverse cards, which is a matter of luck, should take any security measures he can think of to overcome unfavorable distribution if it exists.

He notes that if the clubs are divided 5-0, there is little he can do about it. But he also observes that if the suit is divided 4-1, there is an excellent chance that something can be done about it.

Declarer therefore proceeds to play the hand on the basis that a 4-1 division exists. To combat this possibility, he lays the groundwork for an endplay.

After taking the ace of spades and a round of trump, he plays a diamond to the ace and ruffs a diamond. He then trumps a spade in dummy and ruffs the jack of diamonds. The stage is now set for the crucial play. Spades and diamonds have been eliminated from both hands.

South leads a low club. Assume West plays low and East wins the ten. East must return a diamond or a spade, permitting declarer a ruff-discard, and the contract is made.

If West plays the jack or queen on the first club lead, it does not help him. South can duck and take the rest of the tricks regardless of what West returns.

What the proposition boils down to is that if the clubs break 4-1 and the player with the singleton has the queen, jack, ten, or nine, there is no escape for the defenders. It does not matter whether East or West has the singleton.

By taking proper precautions before tackling the clubs, declarer becomes an overwhelming favorite to make the slam.

Population Explosion 'To Change' Vet's Role

VETS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Dr. Rex Emery of Gering, seated left, was elected president of the Nebraska State Veterinary Medical Assn. at the annual meeting of the group Wednesday. Other officers are Dr. Ordella Geisler of Lincoln, seated right, secretary-treasurer, and standing, left to right, Dr. Jack Cady of Arlington, vice president, and Dr. Paul Mathews of Omaha, corresponding secretary to the American VMA. An outlook for the future of the beef cattle industry was presented to Nebraska veterinarians Wednesday at their 63rd annual meeting by Dr. H. J. Hill of Denver, specialist in improved programs for beef research.

Dr. Hill told veterinarians that the "population boom" already upon us would call for doubled beef production in the next 10 years.

Demand will see livestock producers producing more beef cattle and slaughtering them at a younger age, according to Dr. Hill.

He said that where we now have 10 sq. miles per person, by 1970 our land area will amount to 6 sq. miles for each person.

These changes call for more production at an economical price if producers wish to keep beef the No. 1 protein product, according to Dr. Hill.

He told veterinarians their position would be to "learn all you can and as fast as possible about new technical methods of reproduction, artificial insemination and fertility."

To further production of more efficient beef animals, Dr. Hill forsees the use of different ways to breed cattle, new methods of handling artificial insemination and eventual control of sex in the beef herd production program.

"Although this seems a long way in the future it will happen in our lifetime and we must get ready for it now," said Dr. Hill.

New officers elected for Nebraska's Veterinary Medical Assn. are: president, Dr. Rex Emery of Gering; vice-president, Dr. Jack Cady of Arlington; sec-tres. Dr. Ordella Geisler of Lincoln and corresponding secretary to the American Veterinary Medical Assn., Dr. Paul Mathews of Omaha.

Lifetime memberships in the Nebraska Veterinary Assn. were presented to Dr. W. I. Randall of Genoa, Dr. W. J. Ritter of Creton, Dr. L. V. Skidmore of Lincoln, Dr. Fred Barta of Wilber, Dr. A. W. Bohaboy of Prague, Dr. Ben Griffiths of Wisner and Dr. H. C. Groetke of Columbus.

This honor is given to all state veterinarians who reach 70 years of age and are members in good standing of the state association.

Gov. Ralph G. Brooks who addressed the annual banquet of the Nebraska Veterinary Assn. stressed the importance of our fast moving world affairs by telling his audience that, "We have now through man's inventions broken the speed of sound—We now need to break the barrier of thought."

Continued education of the basic fundamentals was deemed vitally important by the governor.

MINORS CONVENTION CONCLUDES

300 Hit 2nd Time Of Year

. . . Henderson Hot

Les Henderson became the second 300 bowler in the Capital City this season, turning in a perfect game at Hollywood Bowl Wednesday night.

Henderson, a major in the U.S. Corps of Engineers, hit 12 straight strikes with the Allen Realty team in the Hollywood Classic League.

Best Hit 12th

The 300 didn't come easy. Henderson had 3 or 4 strikes which missed the pocket and waited until frame No. 12 before getting his best hit.

Henderson's 300 came in the first of a series. His strike string ran out in the second when he started a 215 game with a spare. The 179 average bowler finished with a 674 series.

Bill Koehler got Lincoln's other 300 game this season at the Bowl-Mor Lanes Oct. 19.

Returns To Lincoln

Henderson received a $300 imbursement from Hollywood Bowl for the perfect game and will be eligible for more prizes from the American Bowling Congress.

This is Henderson's first season since returning to Lincoln. He bowled here in 1947-48-49 before leaving the city.

It was the cage opener for both schools.

Joe Brown Retains Lightweight Crown

. . . Charnley Bid Halted By 5th-Round TKO

Houston, Tex. (AP) — Aging Joe Brown retained his lightweight crown Wednesday night when his fists slashed stubby British challenger Dave Charnley about the eyes and forced a halt in their battle after 5 rounds.

It was Brown's 8th defense.

Leading On Points

Brown, the Baton Rouge, La. Negro who's kept the title for more than 3 years, was leading the Englishman on points when the end came.

Just before the 5th round was over Brown lashed out with a left hook that opened a deep cut over Charnley's right eye.

Charnley weathered the round although staggering and stumbled to his corner.

While his handlers worked over the deeply bleeding cut, referee Jimmy Webb of Houston raised Brown's hand and called the fight at an end.

Carried All Rounds

It was obvious Brown was going to win the scheduled 15-round bout anyway. He carried every round on all except one judge's card.

In the second, Brown's flickering left—and his 3½-inch reach advantage was the big point—had opened a slight cut under Charnley's right eye.

In the 3rd Brown had swarmed the little man from Britain. But Charnley gave indications of a comeback in the 4th.

By winning Brown tied the all-time record for defenses of the title in this class. Benny Leonard set it prior to retiring in 1925.

Recorded As TKO

Referee Jimmy Webb scored the fight 50-46 for Brown under the 10-point must system. Judge Ernie Taylor had it 49-46, and Judge W. H. Cornelius scored it 50-45.

The fight went in the books as a technical knockout.

NU Gridders Told To Seek 'Realism'

. . . During Annual Football Banquet

By Bob McCoy

Dr. Ronald Meredith instructed the University of Nebraska football team to recognize realism as it prepares for the forthcoming East-West game.

Guest speaker at the Lincoln University Club's Cornhusker grid banquet Wednesday night, Dr. Meredith told the players they must be ready to furnish the right offense and a capable defense for the all-important game.

Dr. Meredith

Referring to the world struggle between free-loving West and Communist-directed East, Dr. Meredith said. "We must know our own strength and weakness as well as those of the enemy — then we have realism and can move accordingly."

The Wichita, Kan. pastor reminded the gridders they must take the right steps forward and that there will be a struggle before and after each victory.

In regard to the 1959 NU season, he told the players, "you can't feel completely Oklahoma — you must real-safe with one victory over ize that it won't be long before you'll have to play them again."

Dr. Meredith, himself a Methodist minister, said the East-West game won't be won by any one denomination, but rather by all sects working together.

"When this happens," he said, "there will be strong helping hand ready to guide the drive far before it reaches the 50-yard line."

A dozen Nebraska seniors were presented watches by the University Club.

These 12 included Bill Bohanan, Roger Brede, Duane Mongerson, Jim Moore, LeRoy Zentic, Guy Sapp, Dale Siemer, Max Martz, Tom Kramer, Harry Tolly, Carroll Zaruba and student manager Bob Hall.

Thomson Tops 1st Round Play

Melbourne (AP) — Australia's Peter Thomson fired a course record 69, 6 under par, Wednesday for the first round lead in the $6,720 golf tournament at the Huntingdale Club.

The 4-time British Open champion from Melbourne had a 3-stroke lead over Dai Rees, Britain's Ryder Cup captain. Angel Miguel of Spain was tied at 73 with 3 Australian pros.

Many Scramblings For Agreements; Lincoln Re-Hires Pilot Hutchinson

By Don Brryant
(Sports Editor, The Star)

St. Petersburg, Fla. —The 58th annual minor league convention wound up here Wednesday night on a gala note — a star-studded banquet emceed by jovial Tommy Richardson, president of the Eastern League.

Most of the day was devoted to various promotional clinics, but there were the usual last-minute dealings and scramblings for working agreements.

'Just Like Ellentown'

Richardson, by the way, will boss only a 6-team league this year. When the silver-thatched crackster visited a baseball game at Al Lang Field here, he surveyed the slim turnout—mostly winter league scouts and convention visitors —and joked:

"This looks like an Eastern League crowd—it reminds me of opening night at Ellentown."

The EL prexy is not alone in his troubles. The Nebraska State League is down to 4 teams, and Kansas City now is reportedly wavering. If the A's pull out, the rookie loop is doomed.

And the rookie Appalachian League is slated to operate with only 4 clubs.

Rehiring Of Hutch Big Help

Lincoln's rehiring of Ira Hutchinson as 1960 manager inserts a spark of reassurance into the rapidly-improving Chief situation.

Hutchinson

Hutchinson, described by Chicago White Sox officials as "one of the finest teachers of young players in baseball," gives the Chiefs a head start in the race to secure a capable field pilot.

Hutch, who guided the Chiefs to a 5th-place finish during their Three-I League debut last season, is the second Lincoln official to be rehired.

Roger Bottorff was renamed general manager earlier.

Lincoln's executive vice president Vaulx Risser indicated Wednesday's rehiring was a vote of confidence for both Hutchinson and Lincoln fans.

Hutch had expressed pleasure with the Capital City situation and had hoped to return this seasonn.

"It's a tribute to the fans of Lincoln that so many managers enjoy our city and want to return," Risser said. "We're happy to have him back and are confident he'll do another fine job for the Chiefs."

Hutch expects a higher finish this season—mainly through the fact that the Chisox will have more players available.

Boone . . . Henchman For Regis Crew Tonight

Wesleyan Five Takes To Road

. . . Meets Regis, Colorado College

By Paul LeBar

Nebraska Wesleyan cagers go after more salt and pepper tonight and Friday.

The Plainsmen, narrow winners of Winona State of Minnesota Tuesday, tackle Regis College at Denver tonight and Colorado College at Colorado Springs Friday.

'Looked Pretty Good'

"I thought we looked pretty good the first half," Coach Irv Peterson said following the opening encounter.

"Our defense could have been better," he noted.

Dennis Boone, two-time Catholic All-American, is henchman of the Regis 5 testing the Lincoln team tonight.

Boone, 6-2 senior guard from Denver, has averaged 21 points per game through 3 seasons at the Jesuit school.

Sherman May Start

Also expected to pop up among Ranger regulars is Jerry Sherman, ex-Hastings St. Cecilia ace. Sherman put in 20 games as a fledgling a year ago.

Plainsmen boss Peterson indicated he'd stick to about the same lineup used in the opener.

That includes Rudy Stoehr and Jim Munford at forwards, Dennis Semin at center and Duane Eichorn and Ron Gillham in the backcourt.

Stoehr, rangy out-shooter, was at his best while meshing 43 points against Winona.

Amen Liked To Succeed State Boss

Tallahassee, Fla. (AP)—Florida State University is expected to announce its new head football coach within 24 hours.

The school's athletic committee was understood to have completed interviews with candidates Wednesday and to be near agreement on a successor to Perry Moss, who quit to become head coach of the Montreal Alouettes pro team.

There was growing belief that Paul Amen, head coach at Wake Forest, is No. 1 man on the Florida State list. Amen said at Winstom-Salem, N.C., that he had no comment, "at this time."

Amen's Wake Forest teams have been well-received in 3 appearances at Tallahassee. His 1957 team played a 14-14 tie. Florida State won a 27-24 thriller in 1958 and dropped a 22-20 verdict in another crowd-pleaser this year.

Amen, whose parents reside in Lincoln, Neb., is a former Nebraska player of the Biff Jones coaching era.

" . . . I am happy in my work at Wake Forest and certainly intend to remain here," Amen said at his office.

"We have a fine, growing program that offers a challenge blended with increasing opportunities.

"Football, indeed the entire athletic program, enjoys excellent support within the college family and among our alumni . . . "

Star Cagers Return

Unlike football, basketball always has plenty of all-state players returning from the preceding year.

It seems a football player matures later than a star cager. Sophomore basketball players make all-state much more often than in football.

Nebraska's 1959-60 cage season is no exception, with 10 players returning from various class all-state Sunday Journal and Star selections.

Vincent, Hohn Tops

Leading the pack are a pair who made both the overall All-State and All-State Tournament teams, Bill Vincent of Omaha South and Bob Hohn of Beatrice.

Vincent has much the better chance to repeat in both selections. Hohn has only one letterman returning with him at Beatrice, and the Orangemen's chance of getting a state tourney spot aren't as good as Vincent's with the Packers.

South lost only one starter and one man off the first 10 from the team which finished second to Lincoln High last year. The 6-8 Vincent, who should be the best big man in the state in several years, is expected to lead Coach Cornie Collin's team to the crown this season.

Wiksell, Kamphius Standouts

Other state tourney standouts, although they failed to make the season All-State team, were Wendell Wiksell of South and Minden's Warren Bjorklund. Both are touted again this season.

South is loaded. Gerald Kamphius made the all-state team, too. That's a total of 3 all-state or all-tourney stars back for the Packers.

Omaha also has another all-stater at Central, where 6-2 John Nared is one of the slickest performers around.

Beatrice's R. Brown made the Class A All-State list as a junior, but is still confined to Bryan Memorial Hospital here this season.

C, D Stars Thin

Classes C and D boast few returning top performers. Eddie Lorentzen, Axtell's fine 6-3 scorer, won D All-State honors and is back for another shot.

Mick Brown paced Hastings St. Cecilia in the state tourney, getting an award there. Ron White of Beaver Crossing also was a state tourney standout, although he's only 5-7.

Class E has the most returning. Only one member of the All-State team was a senior. Jim Vanderbeek of Panama won the honor as a sophomore. Seniors now are Bill Holliday, Wilsonville's great 6-5 ace; Don Beckmann of Garland, and Hardy's Gary Bagen.

Holliday was an all-tourney choice, while Bruce Rahrs of Marquette and Rudy Vanek of Prague also won honors as a junior. So did Mick Sokolik of Tobias as a sophomore.

These are the lads to watch this year. Some early all-staters. Some players who gain such recognition early in their careers never reach the same height. Others go on to greater glory.

Minor Leagues To Set Bonus Payment Limits

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—Baseball's minor leagues vote today on legislation designed to curb payments of excessive bonuses to untried players.

No limits, of course, can be placed on the amount of money a boy can receive for signing a contract. Proposed rules would only discourage baseball owners from paying too much by making it easier for clubs to lose high-priced recruits.

The first-year draft of all men signed since last December had its first test Monday. Only way a club could protect a first-year man who played at least 90 days last season was to advance him to the major league roster.

No less than 39 bonus babies were moved up just for that reason. St. Louis has 6 first-year men on its roster.

Mike Lee, reportedly imbursed $80,000 to sign with the San Francisco Giants, was left in the minors and selected for $15,000 by Cleveland. Several others were passed over.

When the minors got through drafting from the lower minors, a total of 14 "freshmen" had been taken.

This first year draft rule expires March 1, 1960 unless it is readopted by a mail vote between Jan. 1 and March 1.

AFL Founder Not Worrying

. . . Has Plan To Lure Players

Dallas (AP)—The founder of the American Football League Wednesday said he isn't worrying that the competing National Football League has signed some of the top stars of the college ranks.

"We're not interested in high bidding for the name players," said Lamar Hunt, wealthy Dallas oilman. "We want to build a solid team."

He and his No. 1 executive, said they plan to tell the college stars this:

The National League will have openings for only about 20 players from the new crop of college players. The American League will have 264 job openings.

"We'll put it to the kids that way and it becomes a matter of simple arithmetic to see which way they'll go," said Rossi.

Thus Hunt appeared to rule out a financial fight for the top gridders, depending on job security to lure players in a profession noted for the number of players who fail to make the grade in the pro game.

The owners of an apparent new NFL entry from Dallas, Clint Murchison Jr. and Bedford Wynne, snared the services of Don Meredith, Southern Methodist's great passing star, with a "personal services contract."

"They've signed certain players that we wanted like Meredith and George Izo (of Notre Dame)," Hunt admitted, "but we're not looking for individuals. We're looking for 33 players to make a team."

Rossi, administrative director of the Dallas Texans of the AFL, said he has commitments for contracts from 4 players he'll sign after the invitation games.

Hunt said it wasn't a death blow when the Texans lost Meredith. "There is one other player who could give us some of the local drawing power we had expected from Meredith."

He did not name this man, but added, "Did you see the Southern Methodist-Texas Christian game Saturday? We should get the TCU line and forget about Meredith."

Dealings May Hurt Baseball

. . . Frick Warns

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—Commissioner Ford Frick, a stout antagonist of the new inter-league trading rule, thinks an extended process of player-swapping between the American and National leagues might eventually prove harmful to baseball.

Frick made the statement Wednesday at the minor leagues convention here while club officials were huddling in attempts to add to the 5 deals already engineered since the origin of the inter-league trading rule.

Dispenses with Waivers

This new rule dispenses with the formality of getting waivers on players before they can be traded from one league to another.

"I'm still not convinced the inter-league rule is a good thing," Frick said. "The next thing you know, they'll want it during the regular season, too. That would be a real tragedy.

"Then you'd really hear such silly talk as fixed races," he added in a half-serious, half-jesting vein.

In his reference to a tragedy, the commissioner was referring to reports that Hank Greenberg of the Chicago White Sox and Frank Lane of Cleveland had advocated recently that a similar 3-week trading period be permitted between the two leagues during the summer.

Frick conceded that not one of the 5 deals made so far—all of inter-league nature—could arouse suspicion of collusion between clubs.

Solar Table

Sunset Thursday: 5:00 p.m.
Sunrise Friday: 7:34 a.m.
Sunset Friday: 5:00 p.m.

Legal shooting hours: Upland birds, small game animals—one half hour before sunrise to sunset; waterfowl—sunrise to sunset.

Sunrise and sunset hours are given for Lincoln and any point due north or due south. Since sun time changes approximately one minute for each 13 miles, add one minute to the above times for each 13 miles west of Lincoln, for each 13 miles east of Lincoln subtract one minute.

Right Here Are 3 Mighty Proud Graduates

Thomson Eager For AL Action

Watchung, N.J. (AP) — Bobby Thomson, Chicago Cubs outfielder just traded to the Boston Red Sox, said Wednesday he looks forward to playing against new opponents and seeing new cities in the American League.

"Naturally, whenever a ball player gets traded it comes as a surprise to him," Thomson said.

"But getting into the American League will make for an interesting season, playing against new teams and seeing new cities."

Outlook Is Dim For Some Loops

ly will succumb for lack of working agreements.

Highlight of the day from Lincoln's standpoint was the announcement by Vaulx Risser — executive vice president of the Chiefs—and Chicago White Sox Farm Director Glen Miller that Ira Hutchinson will return to manage the Sherman Field entry in 1960.

Hutch, who guided the Chiefs to a 5th-place finish last year, agreed to terms via long distance phone talks with Miller and Risser.

"My wife and I enjoyed our year in Lincoln, and we're happy to be going back," Hutchinson said. "I'm sure we'll have a better ball club, because more players are available. We ran into trouble last year because we couldn't get good player help."

Spotlight On Miami

Both Risser and Miller expressed pleasure about the signing of Hutch and are optimistic about Lincoln's 1960 club.

With the bulk of the minor league convention business out of the way, the baseball spotlight will start swinging toward Miami today.

There the major leagues will start wrestling with their problems—bonus rules, draft rules and the spectre of a 3rd major league.

And the trades that have been made here will be announced. Several are in the offing, but the majors have been reluctant to reveal them for fear of stealing the show from the minors.

Rigney Is Satisfied

Biggest trade of this session sent Billy Loes and Billy O'Dell from Baltimore to San Francisco in exchange for Jackie Brandt.

Etheridge Debut Big In OU Win

Norman, Okla. (AP)—Sophomore Brian Etheridge made his college basketball debut a dandy while leading Oklahoma to a 76-58 victory over Texas Western Wednesday night.

The Sooners of the Big 8 took command at the outset, led by 18 points at the half and wound up with the same margin.

Etheridge, a 6-8 prize from Denver and Lincoln, Neb., lived up to advance billing with 17 points and 13 rebounds. He was second to teammate Del Heidebrecht's 18 points.

Iowa Man Will Head New Loop

Fremont (AP) — Westmar College President Dr. Harold H. Kalas of Le Mars, Ia. was elected president of the newly-formed Tri-State College Conference Wednesday at Midland College.

The athletic union includes Dana, Midland and Concordia Teachers, all of Nebraska; Yankton and Sioux Falls of South Dakota and Westmar and Northwestern of Iowa.

Vice president is Yankton College Track Coach Carl Youngworth. Dana College Dean Reuben Poston is secretary-treasurer.

Some 30 representatives of the 7 schools considered a constitution, then decided to postpone passage until the next league meeting next spring.

Meanwhile the schools decided to work out a spring conference track meet, with other conference sports competition slated to begin next fall.

The conference also approved a round robin football schedule, although two schools said some date changes may be necessary.

New NU Swim Coach Faces Rebuilding Job

Season outlook for the University of Nebraska varsity swimming team has been weakened by the loss of 6 lettermen through graduation and ineligibility.

"We will give a lot of teams a battle for firsts, but we won't have the depth for seconds and 3rds," NU Coach Dick Klaas says.

Klaas, beginning his first season at Nebraska, indicated 4 varsity record-holders are returning: Joe Stocker, Frank Tomson, Larry McClean and Ron Bucklin.

Tomson of Omaha and Bucklin of Lincoln will serve as co-captains.

"Our best depth should be in diving, with letterman Branch Walton and sophomores Jim Frank and Jay Smith," Klaas said.

Sprints will be strengthened by Joe Gacusana, junior letterman. Kuni Mihara, Omaha sophomore, is the best of the distance men, but Roger Bosveld, junior letterman from Mason City, Ia., could push Mihara in the distances.

Klaas said Stocker, record-holder in the 100 and 200-yard breast stroke events, should improve this year. Tomson should have his best season in the 100 and 200-yard back stroke.

McClean should be able to improve his 4th and 5th-place finishes in butterfly events. Improvement is also expected from Bucklin in the individual medley, Larry Ferrell of Lincoln in the backstroke and by Don Benson in the breaststroke.

Christmas Season In Unique Opening

Falls Citians Combine Music With Soup And Window Displays

By Dean Terrill
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Falls City—Soup, Santa and Sousa again proved to be a successful mixture here in a festive setting believed to be unique in the state.

The strange combination was the 13th annual soup supper by high school band parents, which over the years has been teamed with the traditional unveiling of Christmas store windows. The special night is one of the city's biggest events.

"It works out very well for both the school and merchants," said Supt. Ralph Andrews. "It gets people downtown for both events."

The Chamber of Commerce portion of the festivities includes a visit by Santa Claus and the inauguration of Christmas shopping as window displays are revealed.

Nebraska News

The band marches downtown, then plays in the city auditorium during the supper.

It is common to serve 1,000 persons or more at the annual event.

Parents of band members started the supper project in 1947 to raise money for band uniforms. Proceeds are still used for various band activities, and mothers and dads prepare food for the occasion.

Long tables in the auditorium were decorated with a Christmas theme for the occasion.

Rapid City's Missile Base Bids Opened

Omaha (AP)— Bids were opened in Omha on nearly $17 million worth of supply contracts for the Titan Missile Base to be constructed at Ellsworth Air Force Base, Rapid City, S.D.

This is the first of two multi-million-dollar bid openings in connection with this project. The other will be held at Rapid City Friday and will involve actual construction of the base.

There were 38 bidders in all competing for 9 separate supply contracts on which apparent low bids totaled $16,911,773. On the basis of these prices the government will have the option of purchasing similar equipment for bases at Beale AFB, California; Larson AFB, Washington; and Mountain Home AFB, Idaho, or other bases designated within the next year. An escolation agreement is included, however.

The Omaha district engineer's office, which conducted the bid opening, said this is the government's first effort to standardize equipment to be used at missile bases.

Msgr. Buckley Is Dead At 82

Omaha (AP)—The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Jeremiah C. Buckley, 82, vicar general of the Catholic Archdiocese of Omaha, died at a hospital Wednesday after a prolonged illness.

Msgr. Buckley served as pastor of St. Bernard's Church in Omaha from 1914 until his retirement in 1953. He had been a priest 55 years.

A native of Cork County, Ireland, Msgr. Buckley was ordained at Waterford, Ireland, in 1904. He came to Omaha the same year and was assigned to Sacred Heart Church.

He was transferred to St. Peter's Church as an assistant and served there until he was named pastor of Sacred Heart Parish in Norfolk, from where he moved to St. Bernard's.

Amana OUT SELLS AND OUT PERFORMS ALL OTHERS

This is the greatest statement ever made (with proof) by either a dealer or manufacturer . . . come in and let the Amana people show you why Amana is guaranteed to outperform all others.

Amana Fact 1

Amana reserve power and efficiency brings temperatures down to 0 degree F. faster and safer than all others tested. Because Amana is engineered and designed and built to be a fine food freezer—not just a "holding cabinet" that "feels" cold.

Amana Fact 2

Amana maintains an even 0 degree temperature. Amana has 6 "fast" freezing surfaces of solid aluminum with the cold coils brazened to each. All foods are either directly in contact with, or directly below these "FAST FREEZING" Shelves. Amana reaches and maintains 0 degree (F) temperature — thus protecting your frozen foods from TEMPERATRE DAMAGE.

Amana Fact 3

Amana has uniform food storage temperature—many other freezers have long running cycles which indicate lack of freezing capacity. Amana insures "locked-in" nutritional values because of the even zero temperature throughout.

'Tree Farmer' Title Bestowed Upon 15

Fifteen Nebraskans have been named the state's first certified "Tree Farmers," according to Karl Loerch, chairman of the State Tree Farm Committee and Extension forester at the College of Agriculture.

They are:

Wesley Huenefeld, Aurora; Joe Koenig, Bassett; Rodney Nickel, Minden; E. A. Langenberg, Hoskins; Hughes Scott, Anselmo; Harry Frauen, Bassett; Mrs. Sidney Shannon, Ainsworth; E. J. Revell, O'Neill.

Eldon T. Hanna, Lexington; R. D. Vavrina, Ravenna; Herman Link, Ravenna; Leroy Manning, Central City; Cash Welniak, Ord; Miller Heller, Dunning and Ernest Billstein, Amelia.

In announcing the first Nebraska Tree Farmers, Loerch said "these farmers and ranchers have demonstrated outstanding ability in growing and managing trees. Their tree plantings provide protection for farmsteads, fields or livestock and add beauty to the landscape of the state."

Purpose of the tree farm program is to recognize those people in the state that have done a good job of forestry and to encourage better management of wooded areas.

In order to qualify as a windbreak tree farmer, the applicant must own a minimum of 3 acres of plantings at least 5 years old and agree to protect them from grazing by livestock and damage by fire, insects, disease and rodents.

Vaughans Sell Blue Hill Paper

Blue Hill — The Byron Vaughan family has announced the sale of the Blue Hill Leader to the Hubert Ostdiek family of Lawrence, publishers of the Lawrence Locomotive.

Change in ownership is effective immediately, marking the first time in more than 50 years that a Vaughan has not been associated with a Webster County newspaper.

Leland Ostdiek, son of the Lawrence publisher, will publish the Leader.

Byron Vaughan, a past president of the Nebraska Press Assn., became publisher of the now defunct Signal in 1912 and purchased the Blue Hill Leader in 1927. His sons, Bill and Tom, who were in business with their father will operate a commercial printing plant in Hastings, purchased a year ago. Mr. and Mrs. Byron Vaughan will continue to reside in Blue Hill.

100-Year-Old Martin Dies

Lincoln Star Special

Stromsburg — Funeral services will be held here Friday for E. W. (Bill) Martin, 100, who died in an Osceola hospital.

A retired farmer, he came to the Midwest Covenant Home here to reside 6 years ago from Gresham. Services will be held at the home with burial at Gresham.

He would have been 101 next month. A brother, Gustaf of Gresham, survives.

Accidentally Shot

Norfolk—Tally Olson, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Olson of Norfolk, is reported in satisfactory condition at a local hospital after he was accidentally shot by a .22 rifle. He was returning home from a hunting trip with his 5 brothers when the gun was accidentally discharged, according to investigating officers.

John Brown's Death Occurred 100 Years Ago

By Dean Terrill
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Nebraska City — Exactly 100 years ago this week John Brown, famed slavery abolitionist, was hanged. And although this community played a vital role in his life, there was not much fuss over the centennial.

Local historians say the event is still a hush-hush topic.

"People just don't talk about it, even yet," said Mrs. George Rowe, owner of the well-known cave here in which escaping slaves were hidden. "The situation was just too serious."

Mrs. Rowe explained that the attitude is probably a carryover from the days "when it wasn't safe to let even your closest friend know if you were an abolitionist or a free-state believer."

Brown was hanged after being found guilty of treason against the U.S. government. His "underground railway" is believed to have continued in the area several years after his death, however.

Much History Unknown

"One of the things most impressed upon children was that they not tell anything said or done at home," Mrs. Rowe continued. "There is much of the history we will never know because of the hesitation of oldtimers to talk."

An example was the late James L. Gibson, whose parents had been abolitionist sympathizers, despite their southern background. The 92-year-old man took many secrets to the grave with him when he died two years ago, even though he apparently knew of much slave activity in his boyhood, after Brown's death.

"He had promised his parents never to tell some of the things that went on, and he stuck to his word," said his son, Oscar.

Further evidence that many of the slavery secrets have never been shared comes from Mrs. Lolo Bebout, 86, who has lived in the area all of her life, but until recent years heard little about such activities as ferrying slaves across the Missouri. Only recently, she learned from other people that the basement of her own house was a Negro hiding place, long before she moved in 45 years ago.

"I was a close friend of the family that lived here, and was in the house many times, but they never said a word about it," she recalled. "All the slavery talk has come out in the open in only the past few years."

Mrs. Rowe and her husband agree, pointing out that the historic interest has developed within the past 25 years.

"There's no real observance planned in Nebraska City, but you can bet that the flag will be flying over John Brown's cave," said Rowe.

North Route For Interstate Gets G.I. Reaffirmation

Grand Island—The Chamber of Commerce here has announced its continued support for location of the Interstate Highway between here and North Platte on the north side of the Platte River.

The group re-affirmed its stand on the north route following a meeting at Lexington of Chambers of Commerce representatives from towns located on the north side of the Platte River, according to Bill Pepper, assistant manager.

The group also discussed the transfer of Interstate planning funds earmarked for the route between Lincoln and Grand Island to the Omaha area, but took no position on the matter, Pepper reported.

SAC Will Provide Forecast

For President's Trip Overseas

Omaha (AP) — The Strategic Air Command will make the weather forecasts for President Eisenhower's trip to Europe, Africa and Asia.

Global Weather Central, operated by the Third Weather wing, a unit of the Military Air Transport Service, will do the job.

The information will include weather conditions at terminals where the President's plane is scheduled to land and in flight forecasts describing flight level winds and temperatures, tail winds, clouds, turbulence and icing.

Nebraska News

Weather Central receives observation reports from 7,000 locations in the northern hemisphere — on both sides of the iron curtain.

The reports are processed and fed into a giant electronic computer in the control center.

The preliminary forecast, made by machine, is reviewed by teams of forecasters who may alter it on the basis of their experience and knowledge.

Last September when Soviet Premier Khrushchev visited the United States his Russian crew asked SAC to provide primary weather information between Moscow and Washington.

Scholarships Awarded Three Nebraska Youths

Chicago — Three Nebraskans have won national scholarships, it was announced during the National 4-H Club Congress here this week.

McKeever

Ronald McKeever of Wymore was awarded an $800 4-H agronomy-plant pathology scholarship by the California Spray-Chemical Corporation. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross McKeever.

Gilbert Grady of Brady was awarded a $300 4-H forest economics scholarship by the Chicago and North Western Railway Co. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Grady of Brady.

Karen Bowers of Bristow was awarded a $400 national 4-H improvement scholarship by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation. She is the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowers.

Grady, whose 4-H livestock projects have netted him a profit of nearly $2,000, started his own business last year, developing a custom hay hauling operation. It grew rapidly and he now owns and operates a fleet of trucks and other haying equipment. He employs 8 men during the haying season.

Twelve pages of wholesome colored comics, feature stories with plenty of pictures and the big entertainment section are a few reasons why nearly everyone reads the "Sunday Journal and Star."

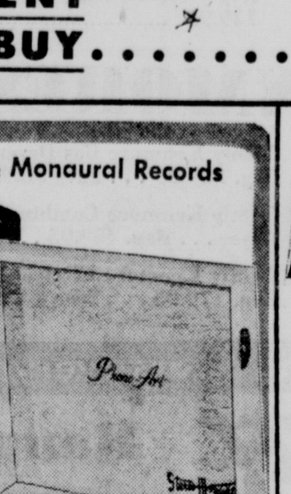
Preble Named U.S. Labor Mediator

Washington (AP) — Gordon Preble, former president of the Nebraska AFL-CIO, has been appointed a federal mediator of labor-management disputes.

Preble was in Washington Wednesday meeting and being briefed by his new bosses at the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

He is expected to leave Thursday for Chicago and approximately one year of field training in Region Five. This area consists of Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota and Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Preble's annual salary as a trainee will be $8,330. As a full-fledged mediator, his starting salary will be $9,890.



GORDON PREBLE

Preble resigned the presidency of the Nebraska AFL-CIO several weeks ago but made no announcement as to his future plans. There had been considerable speculation that he would receive a federal appointment.

The executive board of the state labor organization named Richard Nisley of Omaha to succeed him.

Evanston, Ill. — Funeral services for Sarah H. Maxwell, 73, retired teacher and daughter of a former Nebraska congressman and jurist, will be held here Thursday.

Miss Maxwell taught in Fremont, Neb., and Huntley, Ill.

Curtis Denies He Hired Son

Omaha (AP) — Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb) denied Wednesday that his son or other members of his family has ever been on his Congressional payroll.

Curtis said some "press reports and headlines," implied his son, Tom, a college student, "served on my staff and was paid with funds allocated to me for maintaining a staff."

The Associated Press reported Monday the Senator's son was employed as a messenger for the Republican minority during the July 1-Sept. 30 quarter and had since left to go to college.

Wednesday Curtis explained his son worked as a substitute page and that he received less than a full quarter's salary of $832.80 salary.

Adenauer Favors April Summit Meet

Paris (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, ending two days of talks with President Charles de Gaulle, came out Wednesday for an East-West summit meeting in Paris late next April.

The West German leader announced he and de Gaulle were agreed on all important issues. But he did not say whether the French president agreed with him on a time and place for a summit meeting.

De Gaulle has been talking about a top-level meeting in the spring after Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev visits Paris in March. This has annoyed the British, who want a summit meeting sooner. Geneva previously has been mentioned as a likely site.

Asked at a news conference about the best time and place for a summit conference, Adenauer replied, "I think in the second half of April in Paris."

Working On Agenda

About the program for a summit conference, Adenauer said: "I have talked with (British prime minister) Macmillan in Chequers and with President de Gaulle here and the agenda is presently being talked about by a working group in Washington. I suppose agreement will result from all this."

It was reported that he and Michel Debre got into an argument over France's role in world affairs. A German source said that this was putting it too strongly but it was correct to say the chancellor and Debre did not agree on all points.

NATO Necessary

Adenauer said that he and De Gaulle agreed "on the absolute necessity of NATO." But the West German chancellor added that he believed "the defense integration has to be strengthened."

In this, he appeared to be opposed to De Gaulle who has said that he considers international military commands such as that of NATO's a dead policy. De Gaulle has pulled most of his forces from under NATO control, causing concern in West Germany.

On the question of disarmament Adenauer said he and De Gaulle agreed disarmament was necessary and must come first. This apparently was a reference to placing the issue high on the agenda of a summit conference.

Adenauer said he was in favor of preserving the status quo in Berlin. But German foreign minister Heinrich Von Brentano said France and Germany never will resist any genuine improvement of the situation.

Christmas Season 'Best' For Passing Bogus Bills

Washington (UPI)—Secret Service Director U. E. Baughman warned merchants Wednesday that the busy Christmas shopping season is the best time of the year for passing counterfeit money.

He said, "Crowded stores and inexperienced temporary clerks provide the ideal setting for operations of the counterfeit note passers."

Baughman said the best way to spot a counterfeit bill is to compare it with a genuine bill of the same denomination.

In the genuine bill, he said, the portrait stands out distinctly from the oval background. The eyes are lifelike and the background is a fine screen of regular lines.

In the counterfeit, he said, the portrait is dull, smudgy or unnaturally white. The oval background often is dark and the lines irregular or broken.

Baughman advised merchants to try to stall anyone suspected of trying to pass a counterfeit bill and to call police immediately. If the suspect leaves the store anyway, he said, the merchant should write down his description and, if possible, his car license number.

Vigilance Needed

He said storekeepers also should be vigilant in cashing Treasury checks. Like persons taking counterfeit bills, he said, merchants cashing forged checks are losing money.

Since many forms of identification can be stolen, counterfeited, or otherwise obtained fraudulently, he said, merchants should be especially wary of cashing treasury checks for strangers.

Robinson Is Appointed Judge In Industrial Relations Court

Francis V. Robinson of Ashland was appointed by Gov. Ralph Brooks Wednesday to a 6-year term as judge of the Nebraska Court of Industrial Relations to succeed Earl Moyer of Madison whose term had expired.

Robinson

Robinson, a Democrat, has served as assistant clerk of the Legislature for the past 3 sessions, and is compiler of statutes in the office of the revisor of statutes between legislative sessions.

He graduated, cum laude, from the University of Nebraska Law College in 1921, and practiced law in Lincoln and Omaha from 1921 to 1937 when he was named an assistant attorney general until 1938.

Robinson served as area manager of the 3 eastern Nebraska congressional districts for the Bureau of the Census in 1940, and was legal adviser to the Legislature in 1941.

In civil service from 1941 to 1948, he served as chief hearing commissioner of the Chicago 7-state regional office of the Office of Price Administration.

The Industrial Relations Court handles such matters as industrial disputes and certain matters pertaining to public utilities. The court has handled 13 cases since its creation in 1947.

The position carries a salary of $50 a day when the court is in session.

Other members of the court are Varro E. Tyler of Nebraska City and Arthur J. Denney of Fairbury.

Robinson said the post will not interfere with his duties with the Legislature.

Youths Plead Guilty To Gas Station Thefts

Two youths pleaded guilty to burglary charges and a 3rd pleaded guilty to violating probation on a burglary charge Wednesday in connection with a week-end burglary at the Conoco Service Station at 3275 Sheridan Blvd.

Andrew Belozerous, 18, of 435 So. 11th, and Donald G. Colyer, 16, of 626 So. 10th, both pleaded guilty before County Judge Herbert A. Ronin to burglarizing the station. They both were bound over to District Court under $2,500 bond each.

Rodney A. Hulett, 22, of 630 So. 10th, pleaded guilty before Lancaster District Judge John Polk to violating terms of the two-year probation on which he had been placed Aug. 5 in connection with a service station burglary at Firth. Judge Polk deferred sentencing and committed Hulett to county jail.

Police said Belozerous, Colyer and Hulett all admitted breaking into the Sheridan Blvd. station over the weekend and taking over $100. They also reportedly admitted the theft of $2 from the Ivan Andresen home at 1127 Sumner over the weekend.

Officer Outlines Duties Of MATS In University Talk

Lt. Col. Robert L. Nixon of the Military Air Transport Service reviewed the varied duties, outside the major duty of cargo and personnel transportation, of MATS missions.

Speaking before a University of Nebraska Air Force Reserve unit audience Wednesday, the officer pointed out that of the 120,000 MATs personnel, only 37,000 are engaged in transport work.

Other phases of MATS activity include air rescue search, Col. Nixon said, "and recently the search for missile nose cones has been added."

MATS handles VIP travelers including Khrushchev during his recent visit, the upcoming European tour of Eisenhower, and the many jaunts of the late Secretary of State Dulles.

Weather reconnaissance, protection of Iceland, photography and map-making, mail delivery and transfer of sick and wounded are other duties he outlined.

CAB Dockets Hearing On State Air Service Cuts

The Civil Aeronautics Board Wednesday invited state aeronautics officials to an "informal" hearing Dec. 10 on proposed Frontier Airlines service cuts in Nebraska.

State Aeronautics Director Jack Obbink said he would go to Washington Dec. 7 to prepare the state's case.

Special Assistant Atty. Gen. Rush Clarke of North Platte and Washington attorneys William C. Burt and Clarence Davis will also represent Nebraska at the hearing.

Obbink wired the CAB last Friday requesting a hearing on the matter.

Frontier officials have also been invited to the meeting "as observers," CAB Chairman James R. Durfee informed Obbink by telegram.

Durfee said the meeting would be desirable "in an attempt to work out solutions on an informal basis."

The CAB director said "we wish to point out that the CAB can make no decision at such a meeting on air service problems which may be presented."

Frontier announced last month that it plans to cut 4 round trip flights in Nebraska as of Jan. 1. The airlines also revealed plans to suspend service on two routes, including the path across northern Nebraska.

Service cuts do not require prior CAB approval unless there is proof of "inadequacy of service." Suspensions do require CAB approval.

Obbink will fight both service cuts and suspensions.

The fact that Frontier has not yet filed an official application for permission to cut service, Obbink said, "does not influence this thing at all."

"We will try to prevent reductions and suspensions ahead of time," the director said.

Meanwhile, Obbink also commented on statements attributed to Gov. Ralph Brooks on the hiring of Washington counsel.

Several days ago, he said, the governor agreed that attorneys should be obtained. "It was through his direction that I directed we employ the Washington attorneys," he said.

Obbink said he and Clarke then determined "who would be the best in light of experience and knowledge."

"It was all cleared through me," the director noted.

"As of this morning, the governor assured me personally that he fully supports the action of the Department of Aeronautics," Obbink said.

Board To Take Bids

The State Normal Board will receive bids at 10 A.M. on Dec. 21 for work calling for extension of a heating tunnel. The extension at Peru College is about 300 feet from the existing tunnel to the campus school.

4 Killed In Oslo Crash

. . . Of AF Craft

Oslo, Norway (AP) — A U.S. Air Force twin-engine plane crashed in a fog and burned in a forest preserve in northern Oslo Wednesday. The 4 men aboard were killed.

The bodies of all 4 victims were found Wednesday night by a team of Red Cross volunteers, Oslo police and lumberjacks. They searched through the wooded area with huge searchlights.

The plane took off from Oslo Fornebu Airport for a northern Norwegian airfield and a few minutes later came down on the shore of a lake 17 miles from downtown Oslo, but still within the city limits.

The U.S. embassy listed the 4 crewmen, all attached to the Military Assistance Advisory Group in Oslo, as:

Lt. Col. Henry J. Pashco, Reading, Mass.; Lt. Col. Pete W. Kuba, Struthers, Ohio; T.Sgt. Frank Rice Jr., New Cumberland, Pa., and S.Sgt. Walter H. Brandt, Wilmington, Del.

Judge Van Pelt Denies Injunction To 22 Publishers

Des Moines (AP) — Federal Judge Robert Van Pelt of Lincoln, Neb. Wednesday denied a temporary injunction to publishers of 22 magazines which are trying to prevent Iowa Atty. Gen. Norman Erbe from banning their magazines from Iowa newsstands.

The plaintiffs are publishers of 42 periodicals named recently by Erbe in his drive against "girlie" magazines which he said contain indecent matter.

The plaintiffs sought to enjoin the attorney general from including them in a list of magazines which he ordered county attorneys to keep off the newsstands.

Judge Van Pelt, sitting here by assignment, heard arguments in the case recently.

In denying a temporary injunction he set Jan. 18 for trial of the case on Erbe's authority to take the action he did. The plaintiffs claim that it was in violation of their constitutional rights.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID'S unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! Introductory size 43¢.

STOCKS DECLINE

New York (AP) — The stock market tried mightily Wednesday to extend its recent rally but wound up lower.

Early gains were erased and by the close losses reaching a point and more were fairly common. Those issues which did manage to stay ahead did so only fractionally in most cases.

In view of the market's climb in recent weeks to its highest point since early September, brokers said the decline was to be expected and that prices had held up fairly well.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 50 cents to $225.10 with industrials off $1.30, rails down 10 cents and utilities up 20 cents.

The Dow Jones industrial average closed down 3.09 at 661.29.

New highs for the year continued to stay ahead of new lows, however, 25-22.

Volume declined to 3,490,000 from 3,990,000 Tuesday.

American Stock Exchange prices were mixed on volume of 1,520,000 shares compared with 1,600,000 Tuesday.

Government bonds declined.

Volume amounted to $7,210,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange compared with $8,090,000 Tuesday.

Soybeans Lead Grain Advances

Chicago (AP) — The grain futures market mustered its strongest push just before the close Wednesday and finished with most contracts at or near their day's peaks.

The gains ranged from smll fractions in grains to almost two cents a bushel in soybeans. The few small losses were in wheat and corn.

The late runup in soybeans was the second consecutive general advance in that commodity and the broadest in about three weeks. Gains for the two days amount to well over two cents for some contracts.

Soybeans derived their major strength from higher prices for soybean oil and soybean meal.

Wheat closed ⅝ cent a bushel higher to ⅛ lower, December $1.98-98⅛; corn ½ lower to ⅛ higher, December $1.10; oats ⅛-⅝ higher, December 77¾; rye ⅜-1 cent higher, December $1.32½; soybeans ⅞-1¾ higher, January $2.19⅛-20.

School Boy Admits Killing Lonely Lax Girl In Her 'Fort'

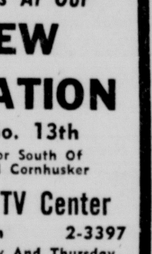
Kentfield, Calif. (UPI)—The Marin County sheriff announced Wednesday that a 15-year-old boy has confessed the sex slaying of Lorna Lax, the lonely, handicapped 12-year-old girl who was found stabbed and hanged in her secret "fort" Nov. 16.

Sheriff Louis Mountanos said Clifford Fortner, 15, confessed that he had sexual intercourse with the girl, then stabbed her with a steak knife—part of a set Lorna had bought to give her parents at Christmas.

"Something came over me—I don't know what—after the act," the boy said.

Knife Found

Assistant District Attorney Bruce Bales said Clifford told how he struck the girl on the head several times. When he saw that she still was alive, he endeavored to hang her, then stabbed her in the abdomen. The knife was found at the scene.



Fortner

Mountanos said Clifford's confession came two hours after he was taken from high school for questioning.

The girl disappeared on Saturday, Nov. 14, after leaving a note for her parents saying she was "mad at the world" and was going to the city. Instead she went to a high school football game near her home.

Clifford told investigators he killed her shortly after midnight Saturday. The body was discovered Monday by Clifford's brother Norman, 13.

Close To Her Home

Lorna's "fort" was in a wooded section along Ross Valley Creek only about 200 yards from her home and within easy walking distance of the stadium.

Clifford's father, whose first name also is Norman, said:

"I don't believe my boy did it."

The elder Fortner is an ambulance driver who with his family moved here from Jasper, Ala., 6 years ago.

Lorna was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Lax.

Lax, a painting contractor, said, "I was hoping it wouldn't be one of the boys. I feel sorry for them."

The Fortner home is about a quarter mile from the Lax residence in Kentfield.

Visited By Boys

Sheriff Mountanos said earlier that Lorna was involved in a "sex club" with boys who visited her at her hideaway and sometimes paid her small amounts of money. Both Clifford and young Norman Fortner had denied previously that they were members of the club.

The girl's parents were bitter at the implications in statements about the "sex club." The father described her as a "lonely but good girl."

The girl was handicapped by a cleft palate that operations had not entirely corrected, and she was teased by other youngsters because of a slight speech defect. This, her parents said, was a factor in personality problems such as hiding out in her "forts."
